

Weary Veterans Turn from Fun To Serious Work

Only Delegates Put in Appearance This Morning, After 17½ Hour Parade Spectacle on Fifth Avenue Tuesday.

RESOLUTIONS

Groups Study Resolutions Today, and Prepare for Elections on Thursday.

New York, Sept. 22 (AP).—Closer cooperation between the American Legion and his own organization was recommended today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in an address before 1,939 delegates to the Legion's 19th annual convention.

Another speaker, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, urged upon the Legionnaires and Auxiliaries tolerance towards new ideas.

"It is my well-considered opinion," Green said, "that the call of the hour is for a closer and stronger relationship between the American Federation of Labor and the American Legion."

"We have so much in common as to make it comparatively easy to promote understanding and cooperation between these two great patriotic forces. Time and experience have shown that the fraternal bonds which were established in the beginning, when the American Legion was formed and which have remained unbroken, have been of mutual benefit and of great public service."

He also warned the convention against the destructive forces of Communism and Nazism which he said were at work in this country, and he stressed the necessity of preserving democratic forms of government in the United States.

Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring, another speaker, greeted the Legionnaires as comrades, praised the administration's foreign policy as "open and direct," and warned against propaganda which would create sympathy for those engaged in conflicts abroad with the consequent attempts to influence government at home.

The Legion selected Los Angeles, California, as the city of its 1938 convention.

New York, Sept. 22 (AP).—The American Legion gave Fifth avenue back to New York today and went to work on the more serious phases of its convention.

Footweary from a 17½ hour parade—the greatest pageant of marching men and music that New York or the Legion ever saw—the veterans forgot martial airs and turned to the task of formulating a peace program designed to keep America out of war.

A record crowd estimated by police at 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 persons watched in alternate awe and passionate enthusiasm as 200,000 Legion men and women marched up the flag-decked, world famous avenue to the peak of bugle and the roll of thousands of drums.

A detail of motorcycle police who started the parade passed the reviewing stand at 5th street at 8:20 a. m. (E. S. T.) yesterday, and the last unit, a dismounted orange touring car loaded with Brockport, N. Y., Legionnaires, wheeled by at 1:40 a. m. today.

The 53-block sector of Fifth avenue along which the ex-doughboys marched—the same route they followed in victory parades after the armistice 18 years ago—was packed from street to shop front by dense milling masses which at times escaped the control of 6,000 uniformed policemen.

Aerial Display
Overhead 100 army bombers and pursuit planes roared in intricate formation.

Tons of confetti and paper streamers tossed from the towering skyscrapers kept 600 city and suburban pushers busy today, restoring the fashionable avenue to its usual spick-and-span appearance.

Most of the ex-service men slept in hotel rooms today or accompanied their wives and children on sightseeing tours but the 939 official delegates, eyes weary-lidded from lack of sleep, came early for official sessions in the Metropolitan Opera House.

The convention was scheduled to hear important committee reports in finance, American child welfare, national defense, peace legislation and foreign relations.

The important resolutions committee, headed by John Gilmore of Michigan, sifted through several hundred resolutions, many of a highly controversial nature, for the few which will be presented to the convention for formal action tomorrow.

Three Garr Brothers To Claim Self-Defense

Shelbyville, Ky., Sept. 22 (AP).—The three Garr brothers, who wrote another bloody chapter in the Denhardt-Taylor case—a story that began with romance and wound up with bullets—prepared today to seek freedom from jail on bond.

The trio—Jack, Roy and Dr. E. S. Garr—charged with slaying Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt, who, the commonwealth contended, killed the Garrs' sister, comely Verna Garr Taylor, will claim self-defense, it was indicated by their attorney, J. Ballard Clark of La Grange.

The case was given another strange twist when commonwealth's attorney H. B. Kinsolving, Jr., who prosecuted Denhardt on the Taylor murder charge, disclosed he had suggested to County Attorney Coleman Wright that the Garrs be denied bond, at least until their arraignment, scheduled Friday.

Meanwhile, as the brothers remained silent in jail here, friends of Denhardt, former lieutenant governor and adjutant general of Kentucky, made plans for funeral services for the colorful soldier-politician tomorrow at Bowling Green.

Local Legionnaires Good Soldiers, but Not Fine Horsemen

Kingston Legionnaires don't mind marching, but they are not overly fond of standing in line for several hours waiting for their turn to fall into line and march, however, Tuesday's big Legion parade in New York city was of such mammoth size, that the Kingston delegation was forced to wait in line on a side street from 3 o'clock that afternoon until 11 o'clock at night when the veterans got the signal to drop into line.

The big parade started shortly before 9 o'clock and continued without interruption until after 2 o'clock this morning. The Kingston delegation had obtained a large three-sided wagon which was appropriately decorated with banners calling attention to the old Colonial city.

Sam Riber, member of the mayor's industrial boxing committee, Jerry Martin, well known Chevrolet salesman and Tommy Murray of the Jacobson shirt factory, all members of Kingston Post, had arranged to drive the wagon in the big parade. All three men have not handled the reins for many years and for that reason they got in touch with Elmer Palen.

Mr. Palen, as every one knows in Kingston is a prominent horse dealer and lover of horses.

Want "Gentle" Horses
"Now Elmer," said Sam Riber, "what we want is a lot of horses that won't run away with us."

"Don't worry Sam," replied Elmer, "I'll see that you get just such a pair. I'll get in touch with a New York city concern at once. Don't worry when you get to New York with the wagon you will find the horses waiting for you and I'll guarantee they won't run away."

Mr. Palen was taken at his word by Messrs. Riber, Martin and Murray and they shipped the wagon to New York city on a truck. They had bought the wagon from Tillson after scouring the county for the type of horse they needed for the purpose it was to be used.

Sure enough the trio found the pair of horses waiting for them when they reached New York. They hitched the horses to the wagon, handsomely decorated, with three Legionnaires proudly sitting in the wagon and waiting for the word to march.

It was 11 o'clock that night before the word was received and the Kingston delegation proceeded to take their place in the line of march. Elmer Palen had kept his word to Messrs. Riber, Martin and Murray for the horses that hauled the wagon were undoubtedly, as one Legionnaire said, "Black and Fall Horses," for they hauled the wagon just one block and then refused to proceed farther.

Messrs. Riber, Martin and Murray used every inducement they knew to get the horses to proceed, but it was futile and finally in disgust they were forced to pull over to the curb as they were blocking traffic and horses or no horses the parade had to proceed.

Then the Kingston Post Drum Corps began playing "The Old Gray Mare" and the horses perked up and proceeded to cover the entire route with Messrs. Riber, Martin and Murray jubilantly handling the reins.

It was some parade, take it from the boys who participated in it and the millions who watched it pass.

Italy Hails New Parley as Victory For Mussolini

Rome, Sept. 22 (AP).—Italians today hailed the impending Italian-British-French anti-piracy conference as a sign that Premier Mussolini's demand for Mediterranean parity had been met and they jubilantly chalked up another diplomatic victory for Il Duce.

Responsible sources said they believed assurances regarding Italy's Mediterranean position, given to the British and French charges d'affaires here by Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano, had overcome the big obstacle to an "effective" piracy control agreement.

These sources indicated a belief that political differences could be thrashed out successfully when spokesmen of the three powers get together soon in Paris, but to Italians at large it was already a victory over the Anglo-French diplomatic front.

The influence of Italo-German collaboration came in for its share of credit in press comment on this new approach to international efforts to drive pirate submarines, planes and warcraft from Mediterranean shipping lanes.

Both Italy and Germany, Europe's major Fascist states, stayed away from the Nyon, Switzerland, conference in which nine nations, led by France and Britain, assigned the armed might of Paris and London to keep a vigil over the main sea lanes.

Rejected Offer
Italy was offered the unimportant Tyrrhenian sea as a patrol zone and Germany was offered nothing. Italy rejected the offer and demanded parity with France, Britain and the United States in the Mediterranean.

Today's press comment on Italo-German collaboration was linked with the government's announcement of Mussolini's departure to Berlin Friday on a visit to Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

Italian Fascists also congratulated themselves that Communism had been eliminated from the forthcoming conference of naval experts at Paris.

It Popolo Di Roma, exultingly said "The question of surveillance of the Mediterranean today re-enters its proper channel and it is now up to the powers which have the juridical title and means to solve it. There will be no intruders."

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Sept. 22 (AP).—The position of the treasury on September 20: Receipts, $76,202,378.38; expenditures, $45,097,161.55; balance, $2,844,510,779.99; customs receipts for the month, $23,187,650.50. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $1,506,830,933.13; expenditures, $1,765,022,893.43, including $477,678,559.09 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $258,191,960.30; gross debt, $36,864,967,837.26, an increase of $4,105,081.36 over the previous day; gold assets $12,677,241,939.33, including $1,145,772,001.26 of inactive gold.

Doyle Awaits Decree
Hollywood, Sept. 22 (AP).—Jack Doyle, pugilistic baritone, announced today he and Mrs. Delphine Dodge Godde are abandoning plans for Reno divorces, but they intend, nevertheless, to wed next April. Mrs. Godde, motor heiress and reputed sixth richest woman in the world, will go to London, Doyle said, and seek a divorce decree from Timothy Godde, export merchant. The Irish boxer, for his part, will wait for the California interdictory decree granted Actress Judith Allen last April 15, to become final some seven months hence.

President Leaves Work to Reduce Today on Western Inspection Survey Fire Insurance Rates in County

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP).—President Roosevelt ordered his heavy clothes packed today for a whirlwind two-weeks tour to Seattle and back to find out among other things what the country is thinking about administration objectives.

His ten car special train, equipped with public address apparatus, was ordered to be ready to depart around 4 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mrs. Roosevelt, a staff of White House secretarial aides, and a score of newspapermen were to accompany him on the trip, which will end either in Washington or Hyde Park October 6 after appearances and informal talks in eight northwestern and middle western states.

The journey also will include an inspection of many federal projects and a "good neighbor" excursion to British Columbia by destroyer.

Traveling the central route, the train tonight will pass through Buffalo, Cleveland and northern Indiana, and tomorrow through Chicago and southern Iowa. No appearances will be made, however, until the train reaches Cheyenne, Wyo., Friday morning.

The President scheduled a pre-departure conference with John D. Biggers, of Toledo, recently appointed to direct the jobless census, and officials said it was likely plans for the unemployment count would be announced after this meeting. Biggers was due before luncheon.

Another forenoon caller was John Montgomery, minister to Hungary.

At a press conference at the summer White House late yesterday the President advised the newspaper men to take along their "heavies" on the 6,000 mile swing because of the cold northwest nights. He had in mind particularly the reports of snow in Yellowstone Park where he will spend Saturday and Sunday night seeing.

The Chief Executive also took the opportunity to admonish the trip reporters against guessing his purpose in visiting certain cities and passing up others.

President Leaves Work to Reduce Today on Western Inspection Survey Fire Insurance Rates in County

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association is working with the Insurance Agents' Association of the county in an effort to obtain a reduction of fire insurance rates in the county. At the monthly meeting held Tuesday evening in Napanoch it was decided to compile a list of all fire fighting equipment in Ulster county and where each piece of equipment is located. This information is to be used in an effort to have fire rates reduced.

The association also decided to sponsor an essay contest limited to the grammar school pupils outside of Kingston on the subject of "Fire Prevention in the Home." The pupil writing the winning essay will be the guest of the association at a future meeting. Three prizes are to be offered. First prize of $5; second of $3; and third of $2. The reason the pupils in Kingston cannot compete is due to the fact that the local fire department is planning to sponsor a similar contest in the city schools. The judges in the county contest will be Fire Chief Joseph Murphy, of Kingston, Fire Chief Fischer, of Ellenville, and George Hammesphar, of Walkkill.

The application of the Rosendale fire department for membership in the association was received and accepted. The association now numbers 42 organizations in Ulster county with membership of approximately 400.

The association were the guests of the Napanoch fire department last night and about 200 members of the association attended the meeting.

Pert H. Terwilliger, of Ellenville, gave an interesting talk on fire hazards in business places and in the home.

The association decided to observe Fire Prevention Week in October.

The October meeting will be held in New Paltz. Following the meeting last night refreshments were served and entertainment furnished by Sickles Entertainers of Saugerties.

Deplorable Religious State
Castel Gandolfo, Sept. 22 (AP).—Germany's religious state at present is "truly deplorable," Pope Pius today told 1,500 pilgrims, including hundreds of Germans, a number of Austrians and 350 newswomen. The Pope recalled that, on a visit to Germany in former years, he gained a most favorable impression.

Brought Down 4 Planes
Chinese claimed to have brought down four of the Japanese raiders.

Despite the air raids, United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson and his staff returned tonight to the embassy from the American patrol boat Luzon.

Protests of U. S. and England Ignored as Japs Bomb Nanking To Reroute Busses Thursday Evening For Fall Opening

Nanking, Sept. 22 (AP).—Less than 48 hours after British and American protests to the Japanese bombardment of this capital, more than 50 Japanese airplanes twined death and destruction from the skies today, killing, wounding or burning to death more than 200 noncombatant Chinese refugees.

Those killed or injured were mostly those who had been too feeble or helpless to join the exodus into the safety of the surrounding countryside.

Dozens of incendiary bombs and high explosives fell into their wretched straw huts in the Hsialakwan slum district, between the walled section of the city and the Yangtze river. The huts burned like match boxes. The huts were trapped and burned to death.

Already accustomed to the horrifying results of 12 previous air raids here, this correspondent, who has reported a dozen civil wars, famines and plagues in China, nevertheless was sickened at the sight of women, children and old men, already burned to death or beyond aid.

In many places heaps of dismembered legs, arms and heads were seen.

The odor of burning bodies sickened the stomach and appalled the senses.

Americans Endangered
The wives of 20 Americans, including seven women, were endangered by the bombardment and the screen of fire raised by Chinese anti-aircraft batteries against the raiders.

Despite the American and British protests against bombardment of civilian populations and private property, the most densely populated section of the city was attacked, including the new residential district where the American, Italian, German and Netherlands embassies or legations are situated and also the homes of virtually all American and foreign residents.

Thirty sections of the capital were bombed, with an average of three bombs for each spot. The stations of two of China's most important railways, the Shanghai-Nanking and a Tientsin-Pukow line, were bombed. These stations are near where American, British, French, and Italian warships are anchored in the Yangtze. Many additional civilian casualties resulted in this area.

If the Japanese aviators were directing their attack principally against government buildings and military barracks, they failed. Not one of these points was seriously damaged.

Black Is Elevated to Court by "Deception"

So Declares Senator David I. Walsh, Who Claims New Justice Imposed on President Roosevelt Who Should Ask For Resignation

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 22 (AP).—Senator David I. Walsh (D.), of Massachusetts, today declared Justice Hugo L. Black of Alabama, by concealing association with the Ku Klux Klan, had obtained his elevation to the Supreme Court "by deception."

By his silence, Walsh contended, Black had grossly imposed on President Roosevelt and his colleagues, even before his confirmation.

Walsh said any impeachment proceedings would have to originate in the House, and expressed the opinion the most feasible way in which Black could be eliminated would be for the President to obtain his resignation.

"From interviews and correspondence I have had with several Democratic members of the Senate," Walsh told the Associated Press, "I find that practically all of them express the view that Senator Black, by permitting the President to nominate him for the United States Supreme Court, and for the Senate to confirm him without disclosing to the President, or his colleagues in the Senate, his previous membership in the Ku Klux Klan, and by his silence intentionally denying the rumors of his Klan membership, constituted a gross imposition on the President and the Senate and amounted to obtaining his elevation to the United States Supreme Court by deception."

"This group of senators who entered this view is of the opinion that this is alone sufficient to disqualify Senator Black, irrespective of what he may now or hereafter say or do by way of repudiating the oath which he took when he joined the Klan."

Walsh said that in his opinion the most feasible way in which Senator Black could be eliminated would be for the President to demand and obtain Black's resignation.

"There is still one other possibility," the senator added, "namely that the Supreme Court will rule on the question of Black's eligibility."

Albert Richards, Poughkeepsie Auto Dealer, Flees from Maniac after Struggle When Car is Stopped.

TRICKED GUARD

Convict William Saurteig Tricked Guard Into Driving Him Outside Hospital Grounds.

Albert Richards, president of the Mid-Hudson Chevrolet Co., of Poughkeepsie, was being congratulated this morning on having escaped with nothing more serious than a laceration above the right temple and a lump further back on the side of his head, following an encounter just outside of Kingston with an escaped convict from the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

Meanwhile his attacker, William Saurteig, who had spent the night in the Ulster county jail, after his capture by Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg and Charles McCullough of the sheriff's office, was on his way back to Matteawan in charge of James T. Tobin, chief attendant and several other attendants from Matteawan.

It was about nine o'clock last night when Mr. Richards was brought to the sheriff's office by Abel Abernethy of the Kingston Chevrolet Co. and told the story of the attack, which took place on the Pratt Boice road intersecting 9-W not far beyond the city limits.

John Vredenburg and Young, who happened to be on duty at the time, immediately got busy, and state troopers and deputies in this entire section were given a description of Richards' assailant and the car he had taken. The Kingston police department also broadcast the description and details of the attack on the telephone, while Deputy Sheriffs Winn and Molyneux left for the scene of the attack and a search of the Saurteig road section.

Offers No Resistance.
Later, on reports that the wanted man had not been seen passing through Saugerties, nor on other leads leading from this section, Sheriff Molyneux ordered Deputy Vredenburg and McCullough to make a thorough search of the entire section near the intersection of 9-W and the Kingston by-pass, including the numerous side roads. The two deputies had been gone less than half an hour when on a dirt crossroad near the Pan-Am gas station and in the neighborhood of where the attack occurred, they saw the car they had been looking for, with Saurteig sitting in the seat. He offered no resistance when the deputies called upon him to give himself up and was handcuffed and taken back to the county jail.

When captured Saurteig, according to the deputies, had a good sized screw driver and a knife in his pockets. A heavy hammer and other tools were also found in the car and when the prisoner was searched at the jail a quantity of adhesive tape was found on his person.

Richards' story, as told to Sheriff Molyneux, was to the effect that Saurteig came to his sales room in Poughkeepsie about six o'clock Tuesday night and wanted to trade a DeSoto car he had been driving for a Chevrolet. He selected a 1937 Chevrolet coach, but said that he wanted to show it to his wife, adding that he lived near Kingston. Richards drove him to this city and out the Saugerties road, Saurteig saying that he lived a little beyond the city.

They went as far as Lake Katrine, when Saurteig went into a store, saying that he wanted to call up his wife. Returning to the car he said that "she is at her mother's house." They came back toward Kingston, Saurteig driving on the way back and one or two other stops were made, ostensibly to find trace of Mrs. Saurteig.

Struck Glancing Blow.
Turning into the Pratt Boice road Saurteig stopped the car and got out while Richards resumed his place behind the wheel. It was then that the assailant threatened Richards, telling him that he had escaped from an asylum and was going to "give him the works." At the time Saurteig had his left hand behind Richards and was tapping his back, apparently, as it turned out later, with the wooden handle of the knife. In his right hand he held the heavy screw driver. Richards, having ascertained that it was not a gun that was being held at his back, he succeeded in opening the car door and escaping, but not before Saurteig had struck him a glancing blow with the screw driver, cutting him over the temple and bruising the side of his head.

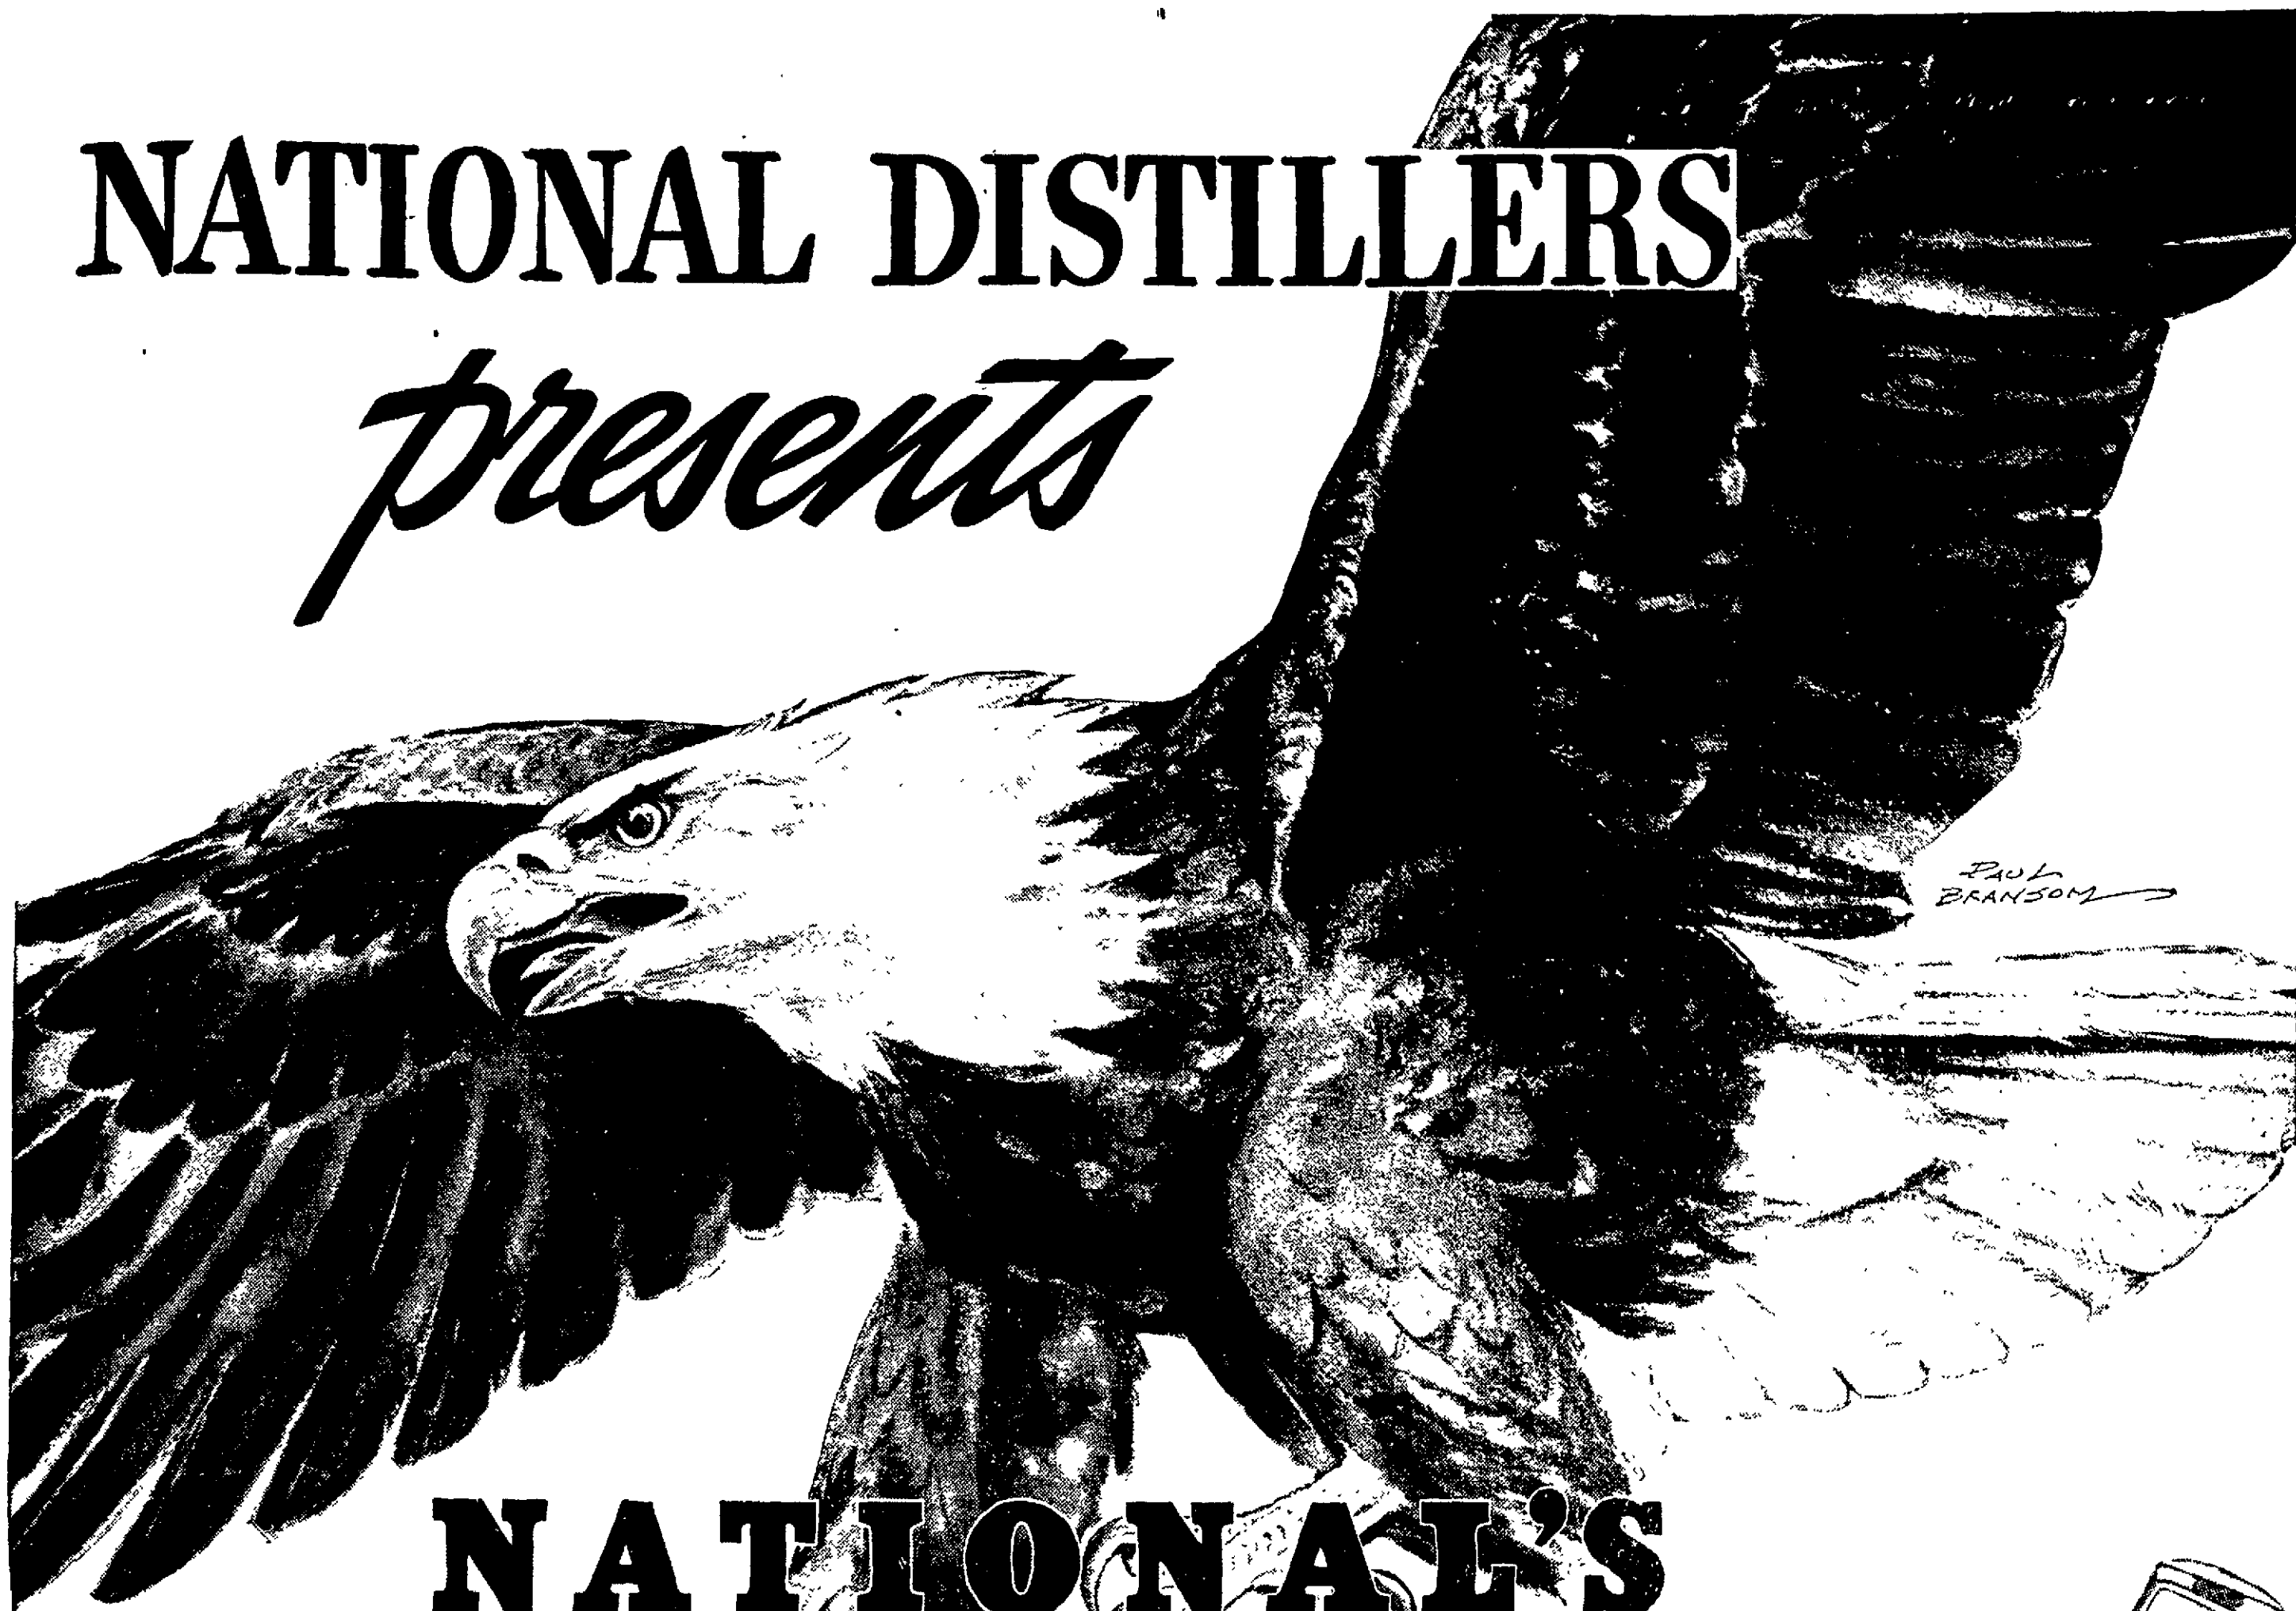

Richards then made his way to Kingston and notified the sheriff's office. It was about 8:20 when the attack occurred and around

You might lounge into Martin's for a Manhattan, or Mike's Place on the Frisco waterfront... you might saunter into gay, old Churchill's after a Broadway show, or into the Palace Bar in Middletown... but wherever you went, if you stood at the bar a while, it was amazing how often you'd hear men call for whiskies that were fine blends!

Of course, if you knew those great American blends, you wouldn't have wondered for a second at such popularity. For the great American blends of pre-

A GENERATION ago, when Fifth Avenue still echoed to the leisurely clomp-clomp-clomp of the cabbies' jogging nags... there wasn't a restaurant, hotel, club or bar from Sandy Hook to the Golden Gate that War days were masterpieces of the blenders' art. With a consummate artistry, those experienced blenders mingled the rich vigor of one whiskey, the silken delicacy of another, the mild suavity of another and built them into a new distinction of taste. And as more and more men discovered that those famous American blends gave them the rich perfection of the straight whiskies' taste... in a milder form... blends jumped sky-high in popularity.

And so at the coming of Repeal, National Distillers turned at once to the task of making one of those characteristic, American blends that America loved so well before the war.

But it takes aged whiskies to make fine blends. Aged American whiskies! And at Repeal there were no adequate supplies of matured American whiskies in existence. So, while National Distillers itself owned many of the historic American brands of the past two centuries and close to half the fine whiskies aging in bond, we have had to wait 'til the Summer of 1937 for some of the whiskies used in this great blend to reach maturity.

But today the waiting ends! Today we have the delightful privilege of offering one of the first fine, before-the-war type of truly American Blends possible in a generation!

Today, in National's EAGLE, we offer you a truly American whiskey... American to the last drop... for every drop of the whiskey in National's Eagle has been distilled in this country... in our own distilleries... under our own eyes!

And a great whiskey it is! A great whiskey with a distinctive character that stands up manfully in a highball... a silken delicacy that mixes like a charm in a Manhattan... a mild suavity that makes a sturdy Old Fashioned or "two fingers" straight a memorable experience. And a whiskey with a difference in taste that makes it a truly great blend!

KINGSTON, N. Y., SEPT. 22, 1937

APPEAL TO "SAFE" DRIVER

If highway safety campaigns are to bring the desired results in reducing the appalling highway death toll, the so-called safe driver must be reached through appeals for consideration of the other fellow. The popular belief that the great bulk of highway accidents is caused by the congeni-tally reckless or incompetent person is far from the truth. Safety experts estimate that drivers, with at least eight years experience

who never had a previous accident, have caused 75 per cent of the highway fatalities this year.

Over estimating safety factors has turned many a driver who used to be careful into a dangerous menace on the highways.

Where the car of a few years ago

gave you a thrill at 40, the cars of today do 60 and 70 with ease.

That makes for comfortable motioring when all goes well—but lack of vibration and motor smoothness doesn't help when you careen head on into another car at a mile-a-minute clip. And the fact that today's highways are safe, from an engineering standpoint, when compared to the roads of yesterday doesn't help when you experience a blow-out while you're hitting it up or speeding around a curve to find the road blocked and insufficient room to stop.

It is the average experienced

"safe" driver who is causing today's accidents. This is the driver who must be reached by law enforcement agencies and who must be appealed to by safety campaigns. This is the driver to whom District Attorney Cleon B.

Murray made a special appeal in

The Freeman of September 8 asking for greater caution since children have returned to their schools.

"Watch out for our children", pleaded the district attorney.

"Protect them and remember we have lost more of our people killed by autos than have been killed in all our wars."

Ulster county's death toll by automobile accidents, since January 1, is 22. Motorists can keep this figure from increasing through rigid application of safety measures when driving.

Be careful—Don't depend on the other fellow.

LONG-DISTANCE CANOEING

The ordinary notion of a convent nowadays is probably that of an idle vacationer in correct outfit, dallying with a paddle and a fair passenger at a summer resort. It is quite a jump

from that picture to two college boys, an American and a Canadian,

who have just arrived at Toronto

after paddling for 1,000 miles from Cochrane, in northern Ontario, shooting the rapids and portaging where that was impossible. They averaged about 30 miles a day. Also the return to

There is no cause for this attitude. Other Americans have become British subjects for reasons which seemed good to them.

Many Britons have become citizens of the United States in recent years not to mention the British subjects who became

Americans in 1776. Business interests, convenience, health and numerous personal factors enter into decisions of the sort.

The Lindberghs themselves

have not announced their future

plans regarding citizenship or anything else. They may yet return to America. But whatever they do, an honest and thoughtful person must recognize that they have valid reasons for leaving their native land and must grant them the right to do so without criticism from the people who once hounded them for a thrill. Those who have respected them and sympathized with them in the past will continue to do so without intruding on their privacy.

 sure will not stretch properly, any unusual exercise or exertion, or eating certain foods may so increase the blood pressure that a blood vessel will break and he will have a "stroke," or a "heart attack."

Now it cannot be denied that a stroke or a heart attack may be caused by a broken blood vessel,

due to exertion or overeating,

nevertheless the "fear" of such a thing happening spoils the entire life of the individual, and in the majority of these cases there is no need to follow such strict rules.

Dr. John Oille, University of Toronto, in the Canadian Public Health Journal, says: "In treatment of hypertension (high blood pressure) one must do nothing harmful. Doctors should not cut meat, protein (eggs, fish), or salt

out of the diet of such patients.

Unfavorable suggestions, such as instilling fear of strokes and heart failure should be avoided.

By reassurance, education, and quieting fears, apprehension and anxiety should be reduced.

Hypertension, however, or later helps to produce blood vessel trouble—hardening of the arteries—but only about 25 percent of patients with hardening of the arteries have an increase in blood pressure.

Little is known about the cause of hardening of the arteries, and most of the factors causing this hardening are beyond control. But strokes, infarctions (teeth, tonsils, stomach, bladder) can be removed, and mental strain can be avoided. Calmness of the mind should be cultivated and one should go about work without hurry, worry or mental tension and learn to relax mentally and physically.

There is nothing alarming in the increasing death rate from blood vessel disease—hardening of the arteries—because over 55 percent of deaths from heart disease

occur in persons over 70 years of age, and over 75 percent in persons over 60. The average span of life has greatly lengthened.

This advice from Prof. Oille—keeping calm, learning to keep relaxed mentally and physically, relying about our daily tasks without hurry or worry—as given to us all in this public health pressure should bring great relief and reassurance to those who have or think they have high blood pressure.

the dark ships

BY HULBERT FOOTNER

SYNOPSIS: Neil, a young federal agent, finds his beloved

Janet, a gun and Prescott Fanning's freshly shot body locked in a cabin on Fanning's yacht at Abolom's Harbor. Mr. Neil

hides her nearby in a disused

liner, then joins Mark Bonnier, local investigator. When Neil learns Janet didn't shoot the flashy scoundrel, he suspects queer little Eyster, who hated Fanning.

Also on hand are Kettering,

a Baltimore lawyer, and Ira Buck-less, a tough who trails Neil. The dark ships are searched, but Neil and Janet don't get away. The yacht is mysteriously vanished and Bonnier questions

Buckless who solves Neil.

Chapter 33

The Snapshot Of Janet

"LOOK," said Buckless with an ugly grin, "Fanning was carrying that doll's picture in his pocket. I know it wasn't found on him after death because you never had no picture to publish. Maybe this guy is carrying it on him. That would be proof wouldn't it?"

The photograph was in Neil's inside pocket. He felt as if he were taking a nose dive through space and waited, tense, for the crash. He became aware that Bonnier was asking with a smile:

"You don't mind if I go through your pockets, do you?"

Neil had to think with lightning speed. "I'll save you the trouble," he smiled and threw the card on the desk. "That's the photograph he's talking about."

It created a sensation. Kettering looked shocked; Wilson's honest eyes almost started from his head and the friendly smile on Bon-niger's lips stiffened.

"Is that the photograph?" Bonniger asked Buckless.

"That's it," Buckless grinned.

"That," said Neil, "is the photograph of a witness wanted in a narcotics case. I have never set eyes on the original, and certainly she had nothing to do with this matter."

"How could this fellow have known you were carrying such a photograph?" asked Bonnier.

"His room is across the corridor from mine. I have reason to believe he has been through my things."

Bonnier nodded. "All right. I'll show this to the crew of the yacht and that will clear you."

Neil felt dizzy again. The crash was not averted, but only delayed.

He clenched his fist.

"Wilson," said Bonnier, "bring down McGee, will you? He's the most intelligent of that bunch."

Wilson went out. It seemed to

Neil that half a lifetime passed before he returned. Kettering kept drawing his hand over his face as if to smother a grin, and Neil longed to punch him.

McGee's Answer

McGee, a stolid mechanic, came in wondering why he had been sent for. He had the look of a decent family man. Bonnier pushed the photo towards him.

"Did you ever see that woman?"

McGee looked at the photograph without changing a muscle. Before

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETIES • CLUBS • PERSONALS

Week Of Festivities Starts For Graduates

The first in a series of social events which will keep the graduating nurses busy this week, was the luncheon on Tuesday given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital. Forty-two guests were present to honor the girls who will soon be numbered among the graduates of the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing.

The long tables in the crystal room of the Governor Clinton Hotel were attractive with baskets of autumn flowers arranged by Mrs. R. R. Gross, with flowers from her garden. The individual place cards, in keeping with the decorations lent a festive air to the occasion.

After the luncheon, Mrs. James Hickey, president of the auxiliary welcomed the guests who had come to honor the girls who have completed their training in nursing. Miss Josephine Marsden, president of the graduating class, replied and thanked the auxiliary for helping them have happy memories of their graduating festivities.

Included among the guests were several charter members of the auxiliary. The guests then adjourned to the lounge where the rest of the afternoon was spent in playing cards.

This evening the graduates will be guests of honor at a dance at the Wiltwyck Club given by the students of the School of Nursing. Members of the graduating class are: Florence Agnes Burns, Theodore Minnie Jacob, Honoria Patricia Larkin, Margaret Mary Larkin, Josephine Catherine Marsden, Ruth Julia McDonough, Dolores Ann McNamara, Evelyn Marie Schirmer, Helen Lesina Shoub and Agnes Margaret Tausel.

Christadelphians Meeting

The re-elected president, Benjamin Storms, will call to order the second fall meeting of the Christadelphians Thursday night at 8:15 in Ramsey Memorial Hall. Due to the fact that the club is already planning functions for the coming winter months, an important business program is in order for the members.

Two new members were welcomed at the initial meeting two weeks ago, Ruth Saxe and Arthur Britt. Previous Thursday's meeting they will meet with Dorothy Stagg and Lester Stagg for questioning by the officers to determine their future in the club. This new way of having persons become members of the club has been made possible through the new constitution which calls for interview meetings for candidates seeking membership.

Following the regular business part tomorrow, there will be a meeting of the darts club and election of officers will take place with last year's president, Donald Van Gansbeck, presiding. All boys who expect to play on the team must appear at this session. To conclude the evening's calendar, refreshments will be served and the members will enjoy dancing until closing time.

Last Twaalfskill Ladies' Day

Tuesday brought to a close the Ladies' Days which have been such a popular feature of the summer months at the Twaalfskill Club. Women golfers of the club in variously stay over for lunch and bridge on the days of their weekly golf tournaments there. Those attending yesterday were Mrs. George Pratt, Miss Josephine Pratt, Mrs. Stephen Hiltbrant, Mrs. Harold Rakov, Mrs. A. B. Shufeldt, Mrs. Edwin Fassett, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, Mrs. Ralph Gregory, Mrs. Jay Le Fevre, Mrs. David Burgevin and Mrs. Adelbert H. Chambers. Mrs. Burgevin entertained as her guest Mrs. Raymond Elmendorf, Mrs. Raymond Elmendorf and Miss Belle Van Kouron. Mrs. Chambers entertained at luncheon Mrs. E. V. Wilborn of Saugerties and Mrs. Winifred Ford and Mrs. Burt Wampler of Woodstock.

Two Card Clubs Meet Today

Mrs. Frank Tease was hostess to her card club today at her home on Foxhall avenue.

Harry G. Smith of the Huntington was hostess to the Friday card club this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lancelotti helps on West Chester street.

Harvest Supper

There will be special entertainers at the harvest supper to be given by the Lawton Progressive Club on Thursday evening at 8:15 at the Odd Fellows' Hall on Cortlandt street.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport. There are times when they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time. No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three months of life. 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

Williams-Maynard.

Announcement has been made at the residence of Mrs. Mary E. Williams, at 112 Highland, that the marriage of Mr. Williams and Mrs. Maynard will be celebrated Sunday night at the bride's home in Highland, at the Elting family home. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rev. S. S. Haynes, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Highland, at which both the bride and the bridegroom are members.

The bride's late husband was Lewis B. Maynard of Highland. Her brother is Philip Elting of Kingston. Mr. Williams, a retired fruit grower, is the father of Nathan D. Williams, former supervisor of the town of Lloyd, and the grandfather of Arthur T. Williams of Poughkeepsie, assistant Dutchess county agricultural agent. Both have long been identified with public life in Highland and Ulster county. After the ceremony, which was attended by a few intimate friends, Mr. and Mrs. Williams went to the Williams' family camp at Sandown, in the Rondout valley, where they will spend two weeks.

Huebner-Relyea

Mrs. Anna L. Relyea of 27 Roosevelt avenue and Fred J. Huebner of Maspeth, L. I., were united in marriage on Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride by the Rev. Maurice W. Verno, rector of St. John's Church. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Huebner. Following the ceremony a reception was held and later Mr. and Mrs. Huebner left for a wedding trip and upon their return will reside at Maspeth.

Miscellaneous Shower

On Monday evening the Misses Gertrude Kolt and Elma Smith gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Wilma Smith of Locoma, N. J., at the home of Mrs. John Romulus on Hinsdale avenue. Miss Smith, who will be married this Sunday, September 26, to Raymond Kolt of this city, received many beautiful and useful gifts. The refreshment table was decorated becomingly in orange and yellow. Those present included Mrs. F. Smith of Locoma, N. J., Mrs. G. G. Crosby of Port Ewen, Mrs. L. McCullough, Mrs. J. Stokes, Mrs. C. Herb, Miss E. Schramme, Mrs. M. Romulus, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. E. ## Marionettes Help Pupils Learn To Speak German

By AURELIUS KINSEY (AP Feature Service Writer)

Evansville, Ill. (AP)—Saying it with puppets is the newest wrinkle in language study. More feeling can be put into "Ich liebe dich," says a professor at Northwestern University, if the student of German is manipulating his puppet in a love scene at the same time.

Puppets Inspired Goethe

So says Professor C. O. Arndt, on the school of education faculty, whose high school students take to the new method of studying German with enthusiasm. "I tell them puppets are very adaptable because they can speak any language," Prof. Arndt explains. "Goethe was interested in puppets from the time his grandmother bought him some when he was six. She used them to act out stories from the Old Testament. Later Goethe wrote that this stirred his imagination, and historians claim the first performances of the Faust legend were produced with puppets."

Speak With Feeling

So, Prof. Arndt's pupils try it too. When Gretchen plucks daisies before young Faust's eyes, murmuring "He loves me, he loves me not," it takes more than an academic understanding of German to animate the puppets with the proper intensity.

PUPPET TALK

By making Gretchen enact the story he recites, this student of German learns to associate words with actions.

"The student projects himself into the thought world of the author when he uses puppets," says Dr. Arndt. "This he would not do if he were merely reading the lines."

Music for dancing at the block party, which will begin at nine o'clock, will be by a ten-piece orchestra under the direction of Paul Zucca.

ANGLER LANDS HUGE YELLOW FIN TUNA

Hawaiian Waters Yield Record-Breaking Catches.

Honolulu, Hawaii.—True fish stories are the specialty of James W. Harvey, Honolulu sportsman who has just added another chapter to his series by landing a 265-pound yellow fin tuna to establish a new world's record.

The giant tuna was hooked off the shores of this island, not far from Honolulu near the spot where, last summer, Harvey broke his first world mark by hauling in a 600-pound marlin swordfish. This 1935 record still stands.

The Honolulu fisherman's present haul smashes a record which has stood since 1899, when Col. C. P. Morrell landed a 251-pound yellow fin tuna off Catalina island. Harvey battled the big prize for three hours before bringing him to gaff. The catch was made with an 18-ounce split bamboo rod and regulation 24-thread line.

On the same day that he established the new mark, Harvey and three other members of his fishing party landed four other giant tunas—the five fish totaling 827 pounds. At the same time that Harvey was playing his big one, another fisherman on the same boat was battling a 217-pounder. Two of the others each weighed 120 pounds, and the fifth fish—the smallest—was 105 pounds.

The Hawaii Big Game Fishing club, which checks all record catches made in island waters, reveals that in addition to Harvey's two championship catches, another world's record (124 1/2-pound wahoo) is held in Hawaii by Joseph Stickney of Honolulu.

While game fishing is a flourishing sport in the Hawaiian islands, there are several native variations of the Izaak Walton pastime that are of special interest to globe-trotters. The Hawaiians are expert fishers with thrownets, spears, and even with their bare hands. Torchlight fishing is picturesque, and many newcomers participate in Hawaiian hukilau fishing festivals.

Local "Y" Plans Drive to Increase City Membership

"Power Lines for Youth" is the slogan that aroused the Y. M. C. A. membership rally organization at the opening dinner last evening, to secure 200 new members for the men's department before Monday, September 27, the close of the drive.

As part of the plan to give some fun to the report meetings each division is trying to build an imaginary power line of 100 miles, each new member representing one mile of construction. The head of the rally group is known as the General Engineer, E. J. Trowbridge, Jr. Two rival construction companies are represented by R. H. Broughton and John Garon of the "Speedy crew" and Chester Baltz, Jr., and Mitchell A. Hunzinger of the "Whirlwind crew."

The entire organization of nearly 50 workers was enthusiastically challenged by Acting Chairman Clarence Dumm in the absence of E. J. Trowbridge on account of illness, to go out and sell the activities of the "Y" and build up the membership. The membership committee has worked diligently in preparing the set up, now it is up to the members to carry on the job and put it over in the same way as the financial effort in the Spring.

At this point General Secretary Robert L. Sisson was called on to outline the details of the rally. He said that he was confident that out of the large number of prospects available that the organization would report over 200 members at the victory dinner on Monday evening. The report dinners will be held on Wednesday and Friday of this week and close on Monday, September 27. There were many favorable comments by the group in regard to the new three page folder depicting the activities of the association in concise but brief form. The next report meeting will be Wednesday, September 22, at 6:30 p. m.

The Speedy crew is composed of G. Alexander, Andrew Dykes, Walter Hubbard, Frank McCloskey, Everett Schutt, Warren Smith, H. L. Winter, Allan Hanstein, Thomas Rowland, Stanley Matthews, Chester A. Baltz, Sr., Emil G. Boessneck, George E. Lowe, Clarence Dumm, Howard St. John, Frank Walter, Herman Schwenck, A. B. Shufeldt, Ernest LeFevre, DeWitt Wells, S. Maxwell Taylor, A. Miner, Leonard Beers, the Rev. John Heidenreich.

RALLY DAY AT ALBANY AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday will be rally day at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, and all members of the church and congregation and Bible school are urged to be present at the two services on that day—the Bible school session at 10 o'clock and the morning church service at 11 o'clock. The morning service will feature loyalty and purpose in life and work, and the pastor, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, will preach on the topic, "Our Greatest Need."

The Bible school rally day and commencement exercises will be at 10 o'clock. Boys' Work Secretary E. T. Bookwalter, of the Y. M. C. A., will be the speaker, and there will be other special features, including promotions, presentation of certificates, the announcement of the new teachers, and the explanations of some new plans. A number of new pupils have already united with the school this fall, and others will be welcome. The Bible school is fully graded with departments and classes ranging from kindergarten to adult Bible classes. Thirteen different lesson courses are taught in the various grades each Sunday.

LOCAL SALESMEN TO ATTEND BUICK MEETING

Bob Gross, Buick dealer here, left today for New York city where he will attend a meeting of dealers throughout this area, launching the 1938 program of the Buick division of General Motors.

Accompanying Mr. Gross are five local Buick salesmen, members of his sales staff. The local men will hear the Buick manufacturing and sales program for the coming year and will view the complete line of new cars, which it is said will be announced publicly some time in October.

According to Mr. Gross, the program of the meeting will include addresses by Harlow H. Curdick, Buick president, and W. F. Hofstadter, general sales manager, and presentations by C. A. Chayne, chief engineer, and Thomas H. Corpe, director of advertising and sales promotion. The latter executives will cover engineering phases of the new cars and advertising and sales promotion plans, respectively.

Boy Scout Troop 12 Activities. Friday evening, September 17, Troop 12, B. S. A., held its second meeting of the fall season at Bethany Chapel. Scouts Edwin Kittle and Richard Dumm were advanced to the rank of senior patrol leaders, Scout John Roosa was made leader of the wild cat patrol, and Scout Jack St. John was made assistant patrol leader. Sunday, September 19, in spite of the rainy weather, 12 Scouts turned out for the first fall hike, which was taken to the troop cabin.

MODENA

Modena, Sept. 21.—Plans for the clambake to be served on Thursday noon, September 30, in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, to members of the Dairymen's Cooperative League Association, are well under way. The Official Board of the Methodist Church is in charge. Receipts from the recent clambake served under the auspices of the board, at the Memorial Hall, was reported as amounting to $186.77.

A very pleasing program is being arranged for the annual Rally Day to be conducted in the Modena Methodist Church on Sunday, October 3. Everyone is invited to come and urged to bring friends and relatives.

The Modena Fire Department was called to Mrs. Yeager's house in the village Friday, where a hot water boiler burst causing considerable damage to the stationary stove, and room. The house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Harcher and family, who recently moved from Herbert Winter's bungalow at Ardona.

Mrs. Mary DuBois is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Simeon DuBois and family.

Choir rehearsal will be held for the junior members in the Methodist Church at the conclusion of the school hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Conklin and family have moved from Mrs. Mabel Yeager's house in Modena village to New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moran accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Moran of Gardiner to New York city recently where they visited relatives.

The Misses Lucy, teachers in schools, in New York city, have returned to their duties, after spending the summer vacation at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler entertained guests at their home last week-end.

Mrs. Cornelia Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis visited Mrs. Louella Kohler at her home in Kingston Friday evening.

The first light frost of the season was noted Friday evening in the lower sections of this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. John Denton, have new Florence oil burners installed in their homes.

Mrs. Freston Paltridge was called to Poughkeepsie on Saturday by the illness of her daughter, Miss Edith Paltridge, student nurse in the Hudson River State Hospital.

The Misses Jenkins have returned to their duties as teachers in New York city, after spending the summer months at their home near Modena.

Theodore Woodward of New Paltz was in this section Saturday. Mrs. DuBois Grimm visited her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Van Keuren, at New Paltz, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Coy entertained at their home recently. Joseph Doolittle was host to a number of friends at his home recently.

Mrs. Sarah Jenkins is resigning as superintendent of the Modena Sunday School and will be succeeded by Matthew Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eckert and family of New Hurley were recent visitors of relatives in town.

Miss Alberta Decker, student of nursing at the Bellevue Hospital in New York city, spent the week-end at her home here.

Miss Kaythryn Ross of Modena has the position of second charge nurse at the Hudson River State Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Freston Paltridge spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wager and daughter.

The Modena Fire Department was called about 7 o'clock Sunday morning to extinguish a fire which damaged a roadster of Long Island parties beyond repair. The accident occurred about a mile north of Modena village when the car came around a sharp turn, struck a tree, landed in a nearby field and became ignited. The occupants of the car escaped injury and the wrecked car was towed to Denton's garage in Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Williams entertained callers at their home last week.

The scarcity of farm help is presenting a grave problem to the farmers in this section, as the water supply project, factories and other industries employ such a great percentage of local men.

Mrs. Cornelia Taylor and Mrs. Myron Shultis were in Kingston Saturday afternoon.

A. D. Wager called on relatives in Krumville Sunday.

Matthew Chambers has recovered from his recent illness and resumed his position in the Schoonmaker department store in Beacon.

Daniel Carver of Newburgh was a caller on relatives in this section Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mary Carroll and brother, Philip, have resumed their duties in the Schoonmaker department store in Beacon, after enjoying a vacation.

Solomon Bernard of Poughkeepsie was a visitor in town Sunday.

John Savignano is in charge of a contract to build a house near Highland, of masonry.

Rummage Sale. A rummage sale for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange will be held October 5-9. The location will be announced later.

Truth Telling:
I told the truth to my brother.
And my brother punched my head;
I told the truth to my neighbor.
And I can't print what he said;
I told the truth to my friends, and now
I've nothing but foes, instead
I told the truth to my boss, and I forthwith lost my job;
I told the truth to the public,
And they all cried, "Lynch the swab!"
And I left the town on a murky night
Two jumps ahead of the mob.
So I live on a lonely island
Where the salt sea licks the sod,
And never another human
On those desolate shores hath trod;
And I wonder what would happen to me
If I told the truth to God.
—Ted Robinson, Cleveland

O'Kelly (shouting to a bricklayer on the scaffold above him):
—Hi! Throw me a brick down.
Bricklayer:—What for?
O'Kelly:—Well, I need one more brick to fill this hole I'm bringing up.

The idea, of course, is one paid by the other fellow. The only trouble is to find him.
Contractor:—How much will this bridge for my teeth cost?
Dentist:—Oh, about $175.
Contractor:—Couldn't you just put in a culvert?

Give the average woman a screw-driver and a hammer, and the rule she can accomplish in the modern home will be plenty.

Mrs. Just Married:—I'm sorry, dear, but dinner is a little burnt tonight.
Mr. Just Married:—What? Did they have a fire at the delicatessen today?

READ IT OR NOT—
Honolulu is the largest city in the world.
Treddy:—Where did your sister get that big nose-clip?
Jerry:—It's natural; but she's dieting now.

This cock-eyed world! They sing and dance and make merry when a girl gets married and seem to be just as enthusiastic when she gets divorced.

Tourist:—This seems to be a very dangerous precipice. It's a wonder they don't put up a warning sign.
Native:—Yes, it is very dangerous, but they kept a warning sign up for two years and no one fell over, so it was taken down.

Our high school and college graduates know a lot about higher mathematics even if they can't open the drain in the kitchen sink when it gets clogged.

Jasper:—Karl was kicked out of school for cheating.
Robert:—How come?
Jasper:—He was caught counting his ribs in a physiology exam.

Did you ever stop to think that people who won't trust can't be swindled?
Allan Ross went into a pet shop to buy a parrot.
Clerk:—Here is a fine talking bird. For years he was the companion of a big movie producer—weren't you Polly?

Polly (shrilling):—Yes, sir! Yes, yes, yes, yes! Yes, indeed! You're absolutely right. Yes, sir!

There are worse things than loneliness as many a woman has found out who married a cranky old man for company.

SOUTH ROUNDOUT.
South Roundout, Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith of Kingston visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Chambers of Second street Wednesday.

In the recent health examination at Connelly school the following pupils are found to be 100 per cent normal: Wallace Becker, Elizabeth Ann DuBois, Joan Donald, Patricia Mireup, Elizabeth Wilson.

A surprise birthday party was tendered Adolph Herderich, in honor of his 71st birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Stengel on Friday evening, September 17. A most enjoyable evening was spent and delicious refreshments were served. The guests were Mrs. George Wolf and daughter, Anne, of Briarcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stingle and Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Stingle of Kingston, Mrs. A. Herderich and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stengel of Connelly.

The public is invited to the cafeteria supper to be held in the M. E. Church on Wednesday, under the auspices of the Young Ladies Auxiliary. The following menu is in order: Boiled ham, meat loaf, baked beans, escalloped potatoes, potato salad, macaroni salad, green bean salad, cabbage salad, peach short cake, pie, cake, Jello, tea and coffee.

Republican caucus will be held at Pythian Hall Port Ewen on Saturday, September 25.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "The Lady Escapes" A rough and hilarious journey on the modern matrimonial sea comes to the Broadway with Gloria Stuart and Michael Whalen costars. The story concerns two thirty people who marry on the spur of the moment and who seek divorce almost immediately. The couple fight constantly and the wife says she will break the marital bonds if her husband will find her a new one. So the search starts and it leads from America to Europe and back again. Billed as a super comedy from the studio of Twentieth-Century Fox, this show has a lot of fun taking modern marriage apart and putting it back together again. The work of Gloria Stuart and Michael Whalen is adequate and the supporting cast including George Sanders, Cora Witherspoon, Don Alvarado, Franklin Pangborn, and Jun Brewster, Eugene Forde directed. Kingston: "Elephant Boy" and "Reported Missing" An unusual film makes up the first part of the Kingston double feature bill as dramatizes Rudyard Kipling's "Elephant Boy", a picturesque camera study of India and her people. This picture is well worth seeing for its picture as an appealing and haunting quality seldom found in motion pictures. "Reported Missing" is a mystery drama that is crisscrossed with action and suspense of the melodramatic variety. The cast is headed by William Gargan and Joan Rogers.

Orpheum: "One In A Million" The skating Sonia Henie, top amateur ice skating star until Hollywood, proves to be a capable and attractive performer in her first film appearance, the story of a girl who skates her way to fame and fortune through ability and a good press agent. The show is fine entertainment for its possession of beautiful settings, excellent dialogue and much humor. Don Ameche and Adolphe Menjou are featured in a large cast.

The World Of Stamps

By James B. Hatcher

The man who ordered thousands of Russians shot or mutilated, and shrank with terror as he did so, is being honored by the U.S.S.R. with a set of four stamps commemorating the 11th anniversary of his death.

Felix E. Dzerzhinsky was not only a close friend and adviser of Lenin, but he headed the Cheka (state police) and forerunner of the G.P.U.) for about three years. People called him "the black prince of the revolution" because of his fanatical pursuit and destruction of those he considered enemies of the state. He developed an amazing spy system.

The revolution in 1917 freed him from a convict mine in Siberia. He went to Petrograd, joined the Bolsheviks and was elected to the central executive committee. Dzerzhinsky himself devised the merciless plan of the Cheka, an organization to catch the state's enemies and judge them. Lenin approved and Dzerzhinsky became "chief executioner" of the U.S.S.R.

The design of the Dzerzhinsky stamps places his head against a dark background, with his dates above and signature below. Values: 10-kopek yellow brown, 20-k blue green, 40-k maroon, 80-k carmine rose.

Cuba Advertisers Sugar
The 400th anniversary of the raising of sugar cane in Cuba gives that West Indian republic an excuse to publicize its great industry by issuing a set of three label-size adhesives. Havana of-feels that the "importance of the affair 'justifies' the issue. The designs are divided diagonally, showing the caravels of Columbus in the upper portion. In the lower triangle, the 1-centavo green shows stalks of growing cane; the 2-centavo, an old-fashioned sugar mill, using ox-power; the 5-centavo, a modern sugar refinery.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—In Savannah, Tenn., there is a business firm whose letterhead proclaims the town as one-time headquarters of General Grant and "birthplace of Elizabeth Patterson." If Savannah has seen "High, Wide and Handsome" I wouldn't be surprised if, next printing, the letterhead gives Elizabeth Patterson top billing over General Grant. . . . She played Granny, and she's an actress. . . .

An actress, in case the loose use of the term in Hollywood confuses, is one who can go into a picture and make you enjoy it so much you leave the theater thinking the star is an actress, which quite often is not the case.

Elizabeth Patterson learned the hard way. . . . Dramatic school, stock, three years in Ben Greer's Shakespeare outdoors, more stock with Stuart Warner in Cincinnati, Broadway, and then Hollywood. . . . So I was surprised to hear her say that Hollywood and movies are developing actresses. . . . She cited Jean Arthur, Myrna Loy, Bette Davis—and I had to agree with her. . . .

Break For Bellamy
Ralph Bellamy ought to go places in pictures now, if it never rains but it pours. . . . That oil well of his came in—the one into which he'd sunk his savings—and now that he can take it easy they say he's a good picture coming up. . . . Ralph's been out here six or seven years and what with one thing and another he's never had the chance at the acting he can do. . . . The trailer on "Broadway Melody of 1938" did better by Bob Taylor than the picture does. . . . One more like this role and Bob's beauty will belong to the ages. . . . William Gargan has a beef, which he calls his script on "A Young Man's Fancy" and picked out his role—but this was the one for which Universal borrowed George Murphy from Metro. . . .

College Trouble
Varsity Show" is intended to hit the opening-of-college trade and spirit, and its makers have one thing to worry about. . . . They couldn't include in Busby Berkeley's spectacular finale all the songs of ALL the colleges. . . . And in towns where there are two rival schools, says Los Angeles, what are they going to do to save the theaters?
Brian Donlevy one day jumped 16 feet for a fire scene of "In Old Chicago" and came up smiling. . . . But next day he had to jump six inches and land foot first on Don Ameche's face—and he twisted his knee. . . . Ameche must have a tough head. . . . The picture is having more than its share of injury trouble. . . .

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

New York's only playground with a "keyhole" entrance is on West Forty-ninth street between Ninth and Tenth avenues. It's also known as a "hot lot" and the name and unique entrance go together. A survey of the new playground, sponsored by the Boys' Athletic club, shows that the playground, especially in the small districts, have little chance at recreation spots, swings and other apparatus being taken over by the larger and stronger. So the "hot lot" was devised. To limit the size of those who use it, the entrance of a ten-year-old girl was taken and the entrance cut to 24 inches. The opening is three feet, six inches high and less than two feet across at its widest. Thus should a big kid try to get through he'd get stuck. Even parents are excluded. There is an entrance for adult employees but that is kept locked constantly. So fathers and mothers who wish to see their offspring at play, look through peepholes in the high, galvanized iron fence.

The "hot lot" is in the Hell's Kitchen section. It's a crowded district with few places for recreation. There is no scarcity of children, however, the survey having shown more than 100 to the block. The playground accommodates 300. It is fitted with apparatus of various kinds including "monkey bars," a slide, swings, sand boxes, etc. There are even murals so that the tenement youngsters, to whom a trip to Coney is a big event, may imagine themselves on a beach. A peek through one of the peepholes showed a happy and busy lot of children. And a volunteer from the neighborhood demonstrated the fact that the "keyhole" entrance serves its purpose excellently.

When Guy Lombardo finishes his night's work he drives out to his place near Lundenhurst, L. I. There is a complete garden, rustic seats, running water, electricity and even telephone connections on the place. But there is not the slightest sign of a residence. That makes no difference, however. Anchored close by is the 60-foot Lombardo yacht. Tomorrow immediately on his arrival, Lombardo goes aboard. The captain starts the motors and the tempo gets under way. At about 10:30 or 11, there is a return to Lundenhurst and Lombardo has his breakfast. Vegetables served at all meals come from the place. The orchestra leader likes to live aboard a boat—he sleeps better with the engines running—but he also likes shore conveniences. Thus the combination of land and sea.

Dropped into the Museum of Science and Industry in Rockefeller Center and listened to my voice over the telephone. Automatic devices have been installed and all he has to do is talk five seconds, stop and his voice is thrown right back at him. To overcome "mike fright," which strikes many dumb as soon as the green starting light appears, a number of five-second sentences are printed on a card which they face. It was a repeat performance for me but again I couldn't believe the voice was my own. As a matter of fact, it sounded exactly like that of my old friend George Stark.

Passing the Charles M. Schwab mansion on Riverside drive, I recalled that a friend had told me the steel man smoked cigars from which the nicotine had been removed—or that he had done so in years past. At any rate, he made his purchases from a Madison avenue establishment and at Christmas time he gave orders for hundreds of boxes which were sent to his friends. He also supplied the manager with a list of names and dates so that friends received nicotine-less cigars on their birthdays.

Dealer in Red Underwear

Doing Thriving Business

Toledo, Ohio.—E. M. Hulce says Toledo is the red-underwear-consuming capital of the world. Hulce is the proprietor of a shop which sells only underwear and hosiery. He believes he has the finest list of red underwear customers in existence.

When he started building up his clientele it was in the days when people bought red underwear because it was wool, not because it was red.

Nowadays, the conservatives who still wear flannel garments next to their skin do so because of tradition. "It's not red underwear unless it's really red," they say. Hulce says he sells by mail order to customers all over the world. Not the fly-by-night kind of folk that wear one kind of underwear one week and another the next. But solid citizens who know value when they see it.

Hulce points out that the garments are a fine long-term investment. They seldom wear out. Models and styles never change. Nor do prices. That's fixed at $3.89.

Archbishops of the Church of England are addressed as "Your Grace."

French Steamer Attacked.

Paris, Sept. 22 (AP)—A French warship escorted the French passenger steamer, Djenné, from Marseille into the Mediterranean today, as a precaution following attack on the steamer Koutoubia last night. The French steamer, Koutoubia, was attacked by an unidentified plane while en route from the island of Corsica to Casablanca. No one was injured in the attack, south of the Balearic Islands in Spanish civil war waters, and British warships offered escort.

First of About Town Clinics to Be Held Friday

Dr. L. E. Sanford, city health officer, said this morning that the first of the series of about town clinics for the prevention of diphtheria would be held Friday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock, in the Cordis House on Delaware avenue. Children will also be vaccinated against smallpox at the clinic.

This series of about town clinics is being held in addition to the regular Tuesday afternoon clinics at the city hall. The reason for holding the clinics in various sections of the city is due to the fact that many parents find it difficult to take their children to the city hall on a Tuesday afternoon.

At the present time over 50 percent of the children of Kingston have been immunized against diphtheria. The state health department finds that where 35 percent of the children of a community are immunized that all danger of an epidemic is past.

Dr. Sanford is hoping to greatly increase the percentage of immunized children in the city.

and that is also one of the reasons why this additional series of free clinics is being held.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, Sept. 20—Callers at the home of Mrs. Hoar and her daughter, Jennie, last Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus DePuy and son, Hadley, of Ellenville and Mrs. Currie MacNair and Webster Sheldon.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Cross are glad to know that their little son, Wessel, was improved so that they were able to bring him home from the hospital Sunday.

Dr. DeWitt of New Paltz was in this place Sunday to see his mother, who was injured painfully but not seriously in a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhart and son, George, of Waterbury, Conn., spent the week-end with Mrs. Barnhart's father, George Garrison.

There was a social gathering at the Coleman-Hall home Saturday night to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Coleman.

Father Divine Is Not Acquiring a Heaven in City

Lindenman avenue residents need not feel alarmed about Father Divine locating one of his heavens on that street for he has not taken possession of the Henry Miller place, overlooking Bunting's pond. This information was furnished The Freeman by living T. Spelzer of Hone street, a brother-in-law of Mr. Miller.

Mr. Spelzer said he had rented the frame house on the property to Fritz Wach, a father who is employed in the Steily Shop on upper Broadway, and Mr. Wach plans to use the house for his residence. Mr. Wach is in no way connected with the Divine movement.

The rumor that Divine followers had taken over the Miller property developed when one of the father's trucks was used to move Mr. Wach's furniture to Lindenman avenue from Greenkill Park where he had been residing until Father Divine took over the property.

CLEE WINS NOMINATION FROM HOFFMAN CANDIDATE

Newark, N. J. Sept. 22 (AP)—Lester H. Clee, 49-year old clergyman-legislator, clinched a three-year fight with Governor Harold G. Hoffman today to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination for the candidate Hoffman supported.

Clee's 50,000 vote victory in yesterday's primary over Senator Clifford R. Powell, Burlington county lawyer and legislative veteran, gave him the right to oppose in November United States Senator A. Harry Moore, Democratic organization choice for an unprecedented third term as governor.

With only 250 of the state's 3,573 districts missing, the vote was:

Clee 216,510
Powell 164,792
In 2,543 districts Moore polled 227,758 votes.

The November election will find a Republican political trio, who in three years won the speakership of the State Assembly, his county's senatorial nomination, opposing a Democratic veteran who entered politics in 1907 and is regarded as the Democrats' No. 1 vote getter in the state.

Women Jurors Get 41st Anniversary Complicated Case Sale of Mohican Co. In County Court

In county court this morning, the action brought by Percy M. Mott of Esopus against Alexander Moldenhauer to recover damages under an alleged breach of contract, was continued. Plaintiff claims he sold a car to defendant but the defendant later returned it and failed to make the required payments. The car was later sold by Mr. Mott at a reduction in price and he was sued to recover damages for a second hand car which Mr. Moldenhauer had allegedly traded in with Mr. Mott for the new Plymouth car. The action was instituted by the Colonial City Chevrolet on the theory the car had never become the property of Mr. Mott but was owned by Moldenhauer when he refused to accept the new Plymouth and asked for the return of his old car. The car traded in was sold by Mr. Mott.

A judgment for the amount of the car was recovered by the Colonial City Chevrolet and Mr. Mott now seeks to have Mr. Moldenhauer reimburse for the amount of the judgment. Mr. Mott claims the car was sold and delivered to Moldenhauer but he refused to accept delivery or pay for it. Moldenhauer claims he never purchased the car and that the deal not having been closed he was entitled to the return of his old car from Mr. Mott. In addition Mr. Mott seeks to recover for storage and also for a loss which he took on the Plymouth when he finally did sell it again after Mr. Moldenhauer had refused to accept it.

The suit in itself is a rather complicated series of facts and rather unusual but also of unusual interest is the fact that the case is the first one to be tried with women members of the jury. Three women are on the panel and a second novel feature of the case is the fact that this is the first trial to be had in Ulster county since the new law governing the rendition of a verdict by a four-fifths vote of the jury. It is necessary for only 10 of the jurors to arrive at a verdict where in the past the unanimous decision of all 12 jurors was required. If one juror held out the jury could not render a verdict and the case had to be re-tried.

Joseph Campbell appears for the plaintiff in the present action and Francis T. Murray for the defendant.

Escaped Convict Captured Here

midnight when the two deputies returned to Kingston with their man in custody.
Saurteig made his escape from Matewan about noon yesterday, when he tricked Albert Fontaine, a guard, into driving him outside the hospital grounds. It is reported that Saurteig was helping Fontaine fix his car and got the latter to drive him down the road a way so that he could better tell what was the matter with it and that once outside the institution grounds he forced Fontaine to drive on.

Guard Forced Out of Car
Before reaching Poughkeepsie Fontaine was forced to leave the car and Saurteig drove on into the city and to the Mid-Hudson Chevrolet garage, where, representing himself to be a boiler inspector, he made the deal with Richards that resulted in the drive to Kingston.
Saurteig, who according to the description given, is a man 41 years of age, stands over six feet high and weighs 230 pounds, comes from Rochester. He had been held in the Monroe county jail on a forgery charge, before being sent to Matewan. It is understood that his condition had improved to such an extent that it had been planned to return him to Rochester within a short time to answer to the charge on which he had originally been arrested.

ARREST FOLLOWING AUTO CRASH ON BROADWAY

Charles Tyler of 104 Hasbrouck avenue, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Karl Herlemann of Mt. Kisco, who charged Tyler with reckless driving. Officer Craner was directing traffic while pupils from the high school were being dismissed from school Tuesday afternoon. He had halted a truck driven by Leroy Wells of Meadow street and just behind it was riding Herlemann who also stopped his car. Behind the Herlemann car was the car driven by Tyler and before Tyler stopped his car it had rammed the rear of the Herlemann car driving it into the truck ahead. There was some damage to the cars. This morning in police court the hearing was adjourned to September 29.

Avalis Death Sentence

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 22 (AP)—Calm and boasting that "I don't worry," stocky Oscar Bartolini, 51-year-old Quincey handyman, sat stoically behind bars at Dedham jail today and awaited the death sentence that is mandatory with his conviction for first degree murder. Pronounced guilty of the dismemberment slaying of Mrs. Grace Asquith, widowed Weymouth model, the Quincey chief coolly kissed the hand of his counsel George Lourie, as he was led off to jail and whispered reassuringly, "that's all right."

Special Services

Special services will be held at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Elmendorf street and Wiltwyck avenue, Thursday, September 23, at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. The Rev. J. G. Morrison of Kansas City, Mo., will be the speaker. The public is invited to hear his message. He is one of the four general superintendents of the church and an interesting speaker.

If, as a London paper says, there's a frog in the zoo that "ears with its eyes," what are its ears for?

How Nature Has Helped to Improve Man's Eyes

The starfish has an eye in every one of its five arms, but it looks through only one at a time. Many human beings use only one eye, and future man may have only one, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly.

Man wouldn't recognize the world through any other animal's eyes; if he had a cat's eye he could never learn to read; if he had a rabbit's he couldn't tell his wife from a tree stump unless she moved, only a few owls and a few others have eyesight that could ever distinguish their own photograph from a piece of spotted paper.

When fish turned into land animals millions of years ago, one of the first things they had to learn was how to weep.

As Nature made bigger and more complicated animals she began groping around to improve their sensibility to light.

The first step appears in the jellyfish, which has an "eye spot." This is only a tiny cluster of thickened nerve endings.

This eye spot cannot distinguish color, shape, or distance of motion, but it can tell differences in degrees of brightness.

Nature's next improvement was the eye socket. Eye spots were easily injured things and the simplest way to protect them was to drop them into little depressions surrounded by a ring of tougher material. This defensive development was the beginning of the eye socket, and at once gave the creature a sense of direction.

Companies Incorporate to Limit Obligations

If you saw the words "Naanloze Vennootschap"—N. V. for short—after the name of a company, you probably would be stumped as to what it meant unless you belong to a Dutch family. In Holland, however, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, it would be simple. Naanloze Vennootschap means "Inc.," which is the abbreviation of "incorporated."

The British and Canadian "Ltd.," which stands for "Limited," and means the same as "Inc.," is more familiar. In France it is "S. A." for "Societe Anonyme." The Italian, Spanish, South American, and Mexican companies also have "S. A." for their tag.

Germany's designation for "Incorporated" is "A. G." of "Aktien Gesellschaft." Sweden's "A. B." is "Aktie Bolaget." Japan has "K. K." which stands for "Kabushiki Kaisha."

The British term "Limited" is more expressive than the American "Incorporated." Companies are incorporated to limit the legal liability of their owners to the amount they have invested in stock. In unincorporated partnerships the legal liability of the partners is not thus limited.

Horse Shoes Made to Order

Racehorses have their shoes "made to measure." They seldom wear standard shoes. When young, each horse has a number of faults which must be eliminated; some step too high, others not high enough. Many kick themselves while running, or drag a foot, and so on, says a writer in London Tit-Bits Magazine. The trainer studies each horse and fits it accordingly, and in the first year or two even these shoes have to be changed according to trails which have developed. If, for instance, feet are lifted too high, heavy shoes are ordered until the fault is cured, then they are fitted with light ones. Horses that kick themselves have shoes sharply angled at the point of contact and soon rid themselves of this fault. The idea, of course, is to mold the horse's running so that it develops an easy yet powerful stride which economizes strength and stamina.

Bird Flies Three Miles a Minute

A circular issued by the United States Department of Agriculture contains a scientific analysis of the speed of various birds, and it reveals that, once on the wing, heavier birds fly at higher speeds than lighter birds of the same type. Some of the speeds recorded, however, are not those of normal flights, but of the speeds of birds being chased. At the head of the list comes a duck hawk which traveled at 165-180 miles an hour (3 miles a minute) while hunting for food. Second in the list is a golden eagle which recorded 120 miles an hour while being chased by peregrines. Next in order come the canvasback (chased) with 72 miles an hour; the golden plover, 70; the teal (chased), 68; the peregrine falcon (average maximum), 62; pheasant (average maximum), 60; and the mallard, 60.

Vice Presidents, Freemasons

Vice Presidents of the United States who were freemasons—there were 13—including Aaron Burr, Daniel D. Tompkins, Richard Mentor Johnson, George M. Dallas, William R. King, Andrew Johnson, John C. Breckinridge, Schuyler Colfax, Adlai E. Stevenson, Garrett A. Hobart, Theodore Roosevelt, Charles W. Fairbanks and Thomas R. Marshall. The administrations when both the President and Vice President were Masons were of Monroe, Polk, Buchanan, McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

Malia Is Jailed

Thomas Malia, who resides in the lower section of the city, called at police headquarters Tuesday afternoon and applied for assistance. He was locked up on a charge of public intoxication, and this morning Judge Culliton gave him ten days in the county jail to recuperate.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Normal School Events Listed

New Paltz, Sept. 22.—Freshmen week, a period of the beginning of each school year in which the Freshmen are oriented into their new school life, opened Tuesday evening with a treasure hunt given by the Ko Sdon Ya. Wednesday night the sororities and fraternities entertained at a cabaret and smoker. Thursday night the faculty picnic was held at Harp's Heights to which the entire school was invited. Friday afternoon the management of the local theatre arranged to admit Freshmen to the matinee performance at Colonial Hall Theatre. The picture shown was "Exclusive." Friday evening the Junior class invited the school and especially the Freshmen class to attend the annual Freshman Frolic which was held in the gymnasium. There was dancing, refreshments and special entertainment. On Saturday, as has been the custom for many years, the Senior class sponsored a trip to Mohonk for the Freshman class. While on the mountain games were played and other entertainment enjoyed.

The House Mothers held a meeting in the Social Room on Monday night, September 20. Dr. Lawrence H. Van den Berg spoke at the meeting.

The Attendance Committee will meet the first Wednesday of every month to consider the cases of the students with excessive absences. Students that have excessive absences are to be reported to the chairman of the Attendance Committee.

Miss Wisler is the new hostess at the Pi Sigma Lambda Sorority House.

Edith Byrnes and Genevieve Brown spent the week-end at the Clintonia Sorority House.

John Farmer is the New Paltz Normal national youth administrator.

Varsity football was abolished last winter because of the expense and the lack of student support. This year's basketball captain is George "Red" Key, '38 of Delta Kappa. Key is a guard. Orville Todd, '38 of Delta Kappa is basketball captain. He holds down center and has played on several top-notch teams. Both varsity teams lost six seniors.

Bob Prins, of Delta Kappa and the Normal, is now with the Herald Tribune.

William Israel is doing his extension teaching in Poughkeepsie this quarter.

The extra charge of $5 to the student activity for this year will be used to institute a more intensive health program at New Paltz. This will include a more thorough health examination of every student and student hospitalization when needed. Heretofore the school allowed only a small amount of the fee for medical examinations, and only freshmen were examined. This year every student in the Normal School will be given a comprehensive medical examination, an examination which if given privately would cost five dollars.

In addition, the health program in the practice school may be enlarged. Students taken ill and needing hospitalization are to be provided with semi-ward accommodations in the Kingston Hospital for one week. New Paltz Normal School has put this health program into effect in order to meet the highest demands of the American Association of Teachers Colleges, thus maintaining a rating in the organization. To take care of this expense each student is being taxed $5, bringing the annual student activity fee to $20.

Tennis has gained a permanent foothold at the Normal. The two Normal School courts and three town courts provide plenty of opportunity for many tennis enthusiasts.

Archery under the supervision of Miss Mary Gray Deane is fast gaining favor. Last year's efforts culminated in a championship tournament, which was captured by Evelyn Perckett.

Freshmen girls will have an opportunity to visit New Paltz six sorority houses this week. These visits are arranged so that the freshmen may see the houses and meet the sorority girls.

For the past two seasons the New Paltz Normal boys basketball team has been pleading for new uniforms. This year the pleadings of Ron Blass and Red Key, varsity guards and "C" Kennedy and Bill Israel, fleet reserve men, have been answered. The quintet will have new suits in time for the first game with the Delhi Aggies.

The Rifle Club of the Normal, has been coming along year by year and this year should find it near the top.

Miss Esther A. Bensley of the faculty, is entertaining her sister, Miss Agnes H. Bensley of Binghamton.

New Paltz, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Margaret Denzlinger has rented her house on Tricor avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Owen H. Baum and son Robert of Sullivan county. Mr. Baum is employed on the New York city water project.

Charles Johnston of Rural avenue, attended a convention in Columbus, O., last week.

The Rev. and Mrs. Franklin Dwight, who spent the summer at their home on Huguenot street have returned to Oakhill Terrace their home in Ossining.

Pauline Blecker returned to her home in Albany Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Vandemark, who spent the day with friends in town.

Moses Sprague and Curtis Sprague of Rural avenue enjoyed a motor trip to Pittsfield last week.

Dr. and Mrs. Irving Range of Chicago, formerly of New Paltz, accompanied by Miss Ruth Grahl, have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frost at the Sea Grill on North Chestnut street.

The Rev. and Mrs. Otto Nichols of Elling Avenue are entertaining her brother, Dr. W. C. Sarle of Bovina Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Burleigh at Plutarch on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck and daughter Mary spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ferris at Bangall. Mrs. Mary F. Hastings who has been visiting there returned home with them.

Mrs. L. E. DuBois entertained at a luncheon at the Old Fort last week in honor of Mrs. Philip Elling and Mrs. Kay Wood who spent the summer on the Elling Farm and returned to Chicago on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott entertained guests from Wood Haven over the week-end.

Lewis Ten Hagen is the owner of a new deluxe Chevrolet sedan. The houses of George Morris and Art Minard on the John Messmer lots are nearly completed.

Miss Ethel Alsdoerf has arrived safely at Aruba in the West India.

S. D. Dolson and family have returned to Staten Island after spending the summer in their cottage by the Walkkill.

Roger Juckett who has gone to study at Rutgers, has a scholarship.

Mrs. Harry Gerow visited her sister, Mrs. Freston Plutarch, in Modena on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Virgil DeWitt of South Chestnut street, accompanied by Mrs. Harvey DeWitt, made a trip to Utica and Syracuse last week.

Daniel Shaw was a visitor in Modena during the week.

Miss Gertrude Nichols arrived home recently from her trip to Mexico.

Joseph Addis and family visited his mother, Mrs. Vera Addis, at Kerhonkson on Sunday.

Miss Mary Davidson, who has been with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. V. Bogart, in Allenville, for some time, has returned home.

Carleton De Puy of Kerhonkson has entered the Normal school.

Mrs. Beale DuBois and Mrs. Charles Devo called on Mrs. Thomas Snyder at High Falls recently.

Mrs. Serena Freer of St. Remy spent the week-end with friends in town.

Miss Mildred Davis of Flatbush has returned to the Normal school.

Mrs. Jay LeFevre attended the weekly Ladies' Picnic of the Twaitskill Golf Club on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sutherland entertained Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Freer and daughter, Evelyn, of Gardiner, at supper Saturday evening.

Miss Edna Dugan of Gardiner is staying with Miss Margaret Hasbrouck in town.

George Burleigh of Plutarch visited in town during the week. Plutarch school opened last week with an attendance of 22.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church will sponsor a cafeteria supper on Tuesday, September 21, from 5 o'clock on till all are served.

Mrs. Ralph Gardner and granddaughter, Marie Huggabloom, were recent visitors in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. John Smith has returned from spending a few weeks with her daughter in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Alsdoerf entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Gates of Troy over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Westgate of Millrock Road are the parents of a daughter, Doris Clara, born Sunday morning, September 12.

A sudden increase in the birth rate among bears of Rocky Mountain national park has rangers and naturalists puzzled.

Japan "Sorry" Her Planes Shot Down British Minister

London, Sept. 22 (AP)—Japan today expressed "deep regret" for the wounding of the British ambassador to China, Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, by Japanese airplanes, the Reuters (British) News Agency said in a Tokyo dispatch.

Sir Hugh was shot and seriously injured by machine gun bullets from two planes on August 25.

The Japanese government's reply to protests by the British government said the incident "may have been caused by Japanese airplanes which mistook the ambassador's car" for a Chinese army car.

The note admitted, Reuters said, that two Japanese planes machine-gunned and bombed two motor cars "believed, in all sincerity, to be military lorries" containing Chinese army officers.

Of Britain's demand for punishment of the airmen, the Japanese note said:

"It is needless to say that the Japanese government will take suitable steps, whenever it is established that Japanese airmen killed or wounded intentionally, or through negligence, the national belonging to a third country."

The reply was the second, a previous answer having requested time for further investigation.

HIGH WOODS COUPLE INJURED IN CRASH

Mr. and Mrs. August Lindholm, residents of High Woods, are in the Benedictine Hospital, where they were taken in Lasher's ambulance on Monday evening, following an automobile accident in which both suffered serious injuries.

Mr. Lindholm had a kneecap splintered and other injuries. Mrs. Lindholm had a leg broken and was also bruised and suffered the loss of some teeth. The accident occurred about 5:30 o'clock as the Lindholms were homeward bound in their Chevrolet car. As they proceeded up the short hill on the road leading to Shultis Corners and just beyond Arthur Wolven's place at High Woods, the sun blinded Mr. Lindholm, it was said, and he lost control of the car. The car left the road and crashed into a tree and both occupants were hurled forward and sustained injuries.

Mr. Lindholm, after the crash, succeeded in getting Mrs. Lindholm out of the badly damaged car and then collapsed. Neighbors went to their assistance and called Dr. B. W. Gifford, who gave first aid to the Lindholms at the scene of the accident and treated them further at the hospital, where he had them taken. The car was practically wrecked as a result of the blow against the tree.

Shop On Friday!

IF YOU are one of the few customers inconvenienced by our early closing on Saturday nights, we ask your co-operation in making FRIDAY the SHOPPING day . . . and Saturday and Sunday times for rest, relaxation, self-improvement and religious worship. How many Sundays have been lost because of long hours and overwork on Saturday?

This change does not necessitate lower wages, but will save you money by cutting our light, heat and maintenance costs through shorter hours of operation. Give our employes a free Saturday night and worthwhile Sunday.

REMEMBER, Great Bull Markets lower your food costs because self-service, large volume buying and efficient management decrease their overhead—and the saving is passed on to you.

STOCK SUMMARY OF D. KANTROWITZ "RETIRING FROM BUSINESS" SALE

Stepping Down...

After thirty-five years in business, I have decided to retire from active head of the business I established in 1902... My two sons, Louis and Harold, who have been associated with me for so many years and who have at the same time conducted their successful athletic equipment business, will take over the management on October 15th... This does not mean that I'm going to forget all about work—far from it... I will still be with the boys in an advisory capacity and still here to greet my old friends and always ready to chat about old times.

Costa Farm House Burned To Ground

Fire, which is said to have started in the attic, totally destroyed the Costa Mountain View Farm House on the road between Union Center and St. Remy shortly after 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. This was the second fire as about two years ago the farmhouse was burned to the ground, and it had recently been rebuilt.

The Port Ewen and St. Remy fire departments responded to a call for assistance, but as there was no water available in the vicinity of the fire it was impossible to bring the fire under control.

The farmhouse was a two-story frame structure. Those who were first discovered started to remove the furnishings and a large part of the household equipment was taken out of the house before it was destroyed.

Action Against Black

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 22 (AP)—Senator David I. Walsh (D.) today declared that unless President Roosevelt or Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black convinced the Senate that Black is not a member of the Ku Klux Klan, a resolution condemning the justice and requesting his immediate resignation from the Supreme Court is certain to be brought before the Senate when it meets again.

Two Old For Race

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Because he is too old, Frank Bowman, Lowville attorney, took himself out of the race for a seat on the State Supreme Court bench today. Bowman, who had the backing of Onondaga county Democrats to succeed Justice Ernest I. Edgecomb of Syracuse, said he was 71 years old, adding that, under the state constitution, "that lets me out."

Protests Ignored By Japanese

Johnson indicated he is ready to remain at the capital, notwithstanding today's air raids. Chinese officials expressed extreme gratification, and Americans here assumed the ambassador had received instructions to return from Washington.

One Chinese shell, aimed at the raiding warplanes, just missed the American embassy building and blasted a gaping hole nearby. Shell fragments splattered sickeningly against the gate house of the embassy compound.

Although more than 100 bombs were dropped, the loss of life and property was relatively small. Many of the projectiles were 500-pound demolition bombs which gouged great craters in the new residential district.

Fall To Achieve Purpose

Japanese bombs aimed at the headquarters of the Kuomintang, the dominant political party, destroyed only a small hotel nearby; other bombs missed the ministry of the interior and the local carillon headquarters entirely and destroyed only a Chinese pawnshop.

In the third raid, at 1:50 p. m., the Japanese planes dived over at a great height because of the serious damage they had previously suffered from the Chinese pursuit planes. They dropped their bombs from an estimated altitude of two miles.

Instantly the capital's anti-aircraft defenses which are among the best in the world, stabbed the heavens with countless shells and forced the Japanese planes to turn to their bases at Shanghai where the Japanese land advance was held up by determined Chinese resistance.

Far to the north in central Hough Province the Chinese were pushed back into their strongly prepared defense line cutting across Hough for 100 miles from east to west. The imminent battle was expected to decide the fate of North China.

Far to the south Japanese planes repeatedly raided the metropolis of Canton and were reported to have killed at least 300 civilians and thrown the helpless populace into a panic.

Pelung, Sept. 22 (AP)—The southwest thrust of the Japanese expeditionary force in North China today pushed the Chinese back to their strong defense line cutting from east to west across central Hough Province.

A Japanese army of 60,000 men had advanced 70 miles south from Pelung to within two miles of the defense line on the western flank in the Paoingfu sector.

On the eastern wing, a strong Japanese column occupied the last village five miles north of Tsangchow.

A major battle that probably would decide the fate of North China was believed imminent. Foreign military observers said that, if Japan could break the 100-mile barrier of concrete forts and dugouts stretching from Paoingfu to Tsangchow, Chinese resistance north of the Yellow River would be crushed.

The Chinese were known to have two field armies of regular troops, numbering at least 150,000 well-trained men, entrenched along the line. They were fresh troops which have not yet been in battle.

The Japanese, on the other hand, have had to fight doggedly for every foot of their advance. Chinese provincial divisions have held up the Japanese drive for two months, fighting a slow withdrawal action.

In Strong Position

As they fell back on the prepared defense line the Chinese regional troops dug in to bolster the already strong position. The Chinese were overwhelmingly strong numerically and were believed to have adequate artillery and mechanized units to meet the Japanese mechanized army which heretofore has had little like opposition.

Japanese reported they encountered only small resistance in the last three miles beyond captured Anshien, the next sizable town above Paoingfu on the railroad from Peiping to Hankow.

Paoingfu is about 80 miles southwest of Peiping and the fortified Chinese line runs along the TSO river about ten miles to the north.

United States consular officials were concerned for the safety of Americans in the war-torn region, particularly as they were receiving but scant response to offers to evacuate them to safety in Manila.

Hundreds of Americans remain in North China—mostly missionaries and educators—but the only applicants to the consul in Tientsin were nine Filipinos and an American-born Chinese family.

Thirty-five Americans with 400 Chinese students were barricaded within the campus of the American-owned Yenching University outside of Peiping and were carrying on their classes. The walls bristled with barbed wire, all small gates were bricked up and city.

Will Seek Record

London, Sept. 22 (AP)—John Cobb, London business man, announced today he will seek a new world automobile speed record, probably on the Bonneville salt flats in Utah. Cobb is completing a 3,000-horsepower racer at his workshop in Essex, Surrey. It was planned by Reid Ralston, who was killed in the crash of the famous Bluebird, the present record holder at 301.13 M. P. H.

Eliminate Political Studies

President J. L. Stuart has been forced by Peiping's Japanese conquerors to eliminate some political courses from the curriculum which otherwise is typically that of the liberal arts as taught in the United States.

The Japanese advance to the northwest was reported moving deeper into Shanxi and Suiyuan provinces. The great wall pass in eastern Shanxi province was said to have been captured.

Sociology, giving the Japanese entry into Suiyuan from the south and blocking any Chinese retreat which Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, governor of the province, might have considered.

The Japanese advances to the south and west placed China's two most famous fence-sitting warlords, Gen. Han Fu-Chu of Shantung province and Gen. Yen Hsi-Sha of Shanxi, in a painfully precarious position. Both have grimly endeavored to maintain neutrality although they have named their defense line and opened their provinces to central Chinese government troops.

Both provinces have long been earmarked by Japan for inclusion in autonomous North China state along with already partially captured Hough and Chahar provinces and Suiyuan where Gen. Fu's eastern defenses were slowly crumbling before the assaults of the Japanese Kwangtung army from Manchoukuo.

About The Folks

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whittaker of Otis avenue, left Monday for a two weeks' trip to Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Williamsburg, Newport News and on their return they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reynolds, a Cornell college classmate. They will return home by way of the Sky Line drive.

THE JOINERS

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies

The regular meeting of Atherton B. Lodge, No. 357, I. O. O. F., will be held in Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street, Thursday evening, September 23, at 8 o'clock. The Noble Grand is asking the members attending to furnish a covered dish for the refreshments.

The regular meeting of Clinton Chapter, No. 445, O. E. S., will be held at Masonic Hall Friday evening, September 24. At this meeting the past matrons of the chapter will occupy the chairs and have charge of the meeting. An interesting program is being arranged, and a social hour with refreshments will follow the meeting. All Stars and Master Masons are invited to attend.

ASYLUM INMATE RUNS FOR JERSEY LEGISLATURE

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 22 (AP)—William H. West, an inmate of the Atlantic County Insane Asylum, ran for nomination as a candidate for the state legislature in yesterday's primary.

In Atlantic City alone he got 817 votes. He ran as an "Independent Republican."

He was confined several weeks ago after secret service men arrested him on a charge of sending President Roosevelt threatening letters. West contended he brought about Roosevelt's nomination at the Chicago convention in 1932 by projecting "thought waves" from Atlantic City to vasculature delegates.

Secret service men said West threatened to turn the same thought waves against the President and the Democratic party if he were not "suitably rewarded."

To Display Proclamation

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—The architect of the United States' emancipation proclamation today on its 75th birthday and placed it on display. The proclamation, issued on September 22, 1862, by President Lincoln, and numbered among the most celebrated of American state papers, lay buried in the dusty files of the state department until removed to the vaults of the archives building a few months ago.

Planning to Place Processing Tax on Nation's Lawbooks

A move to place some form of cotton processing tax upon the lawbooks of the nation is said to be under way on the part of the Administration's farm planners. Proceeds of the tax, which presumably would be felt by consumers of cotton goods, would be given to cotton growers in the form of subsidies. Secretary Wallace is expected to reveal some details of the plan when cotton growers' representatives meet in Memphis the first week in October.

William O. Douglas, who since January, 1936, has been a member of the SEC, was elected chairman of that commission, succeeding James M. Landis, resigned. His elevation may mark a turning point in the policies of the commission. He has voiced outspoken criticism of financial practices and has denounced what he calls bankers' domination of industry.

A special FHA survey shows that there has been an upturn this month in residential construction in half a dozen large cities, with sharp gains in the mid-west. Reports from California, Texas and some other sections were less encouraging.

Special Examiner Trezise of the ICC has issued a 213 page report on findings of a freight forwarding investigation. He accuses the railroads of wholesale violations of the Interstate Commerce and Elkins acts and with dissipation of revenues through relations with freight forwarders. The report is an attack on "wasteful" railroad practices. In another report Special Examiner Trezise recommends that roads be required to equip locomotives with automatic stoppers. He holds that the move would not only add to safety but would prove profitable to the roads. Cost, not more than $11,000,000 for 3,500 locomotives now in service.

Grocery chains and food retailers are reporting sales gains this month of around 12 per cent over a year ago.

Stocks staged a rally Tuesday and showed gains at the close, although gains were well below the day's high. On the Dow-Jones average industrials were up one point at the close and to 156.65; rails were 0.51 point higher to 42.31; utilities gained 0.20 point to 24.63. Bonds were higher. Wheat closed firm. Little change in cotton.

There was a cessation of liquidation on the London market. Amsterdam was strong, with better demand for American shares. Pa. M. T. system reported net loss in August of $2,840 before minority interest, vs. no income of $323,039 after minority interest year ago.

American Smelting & Refining declared dividend of $1.75 on common, vs. 75 cents on August 31. Atlas Corp. announced semi-annual dividend of 40 cents, same as paid April 15.

Of hidden Co. sales for first half of September were $2,058,394 vs. $1,894,524 year ago.

The advance in price in the automobile industry, with further increases looked forward, is seen as possibly benefiting the manufacturers of lower priced cars. The swing during the past three years has been toward the medium price cars and away from the lowest price field.

Number 1 heavy melting steel scrap sold off $2 a ton in Pittsburgh and is now quoted at $18.50 to $19 a ton. No. 1 scrap brought $24 a ton in March.

A New York Stock Exchange survey indicates that the decline in security prices during recent weeks has been due almost solely to liquidation and that there has been no abnormal expansion of short selling.

About 1,000 union drivers went on strike yesterday against 40 of Philadelphia's largest scrap iron and metal firms.

Rheba Crawford Subpoenaed

Los Angeles, Sept. 22 (AP)—Rheba Crawford, former associate of Alvin Karpis, was subpoenaed to appear today before the county grand jury in its investigation of gambling and vice. "I don't know what this is all about," Crawford said, "but I suspect I am about to be put into a political plot." Also subpoenaed was J. C. Henderson, manager of a branch bank near Angeles Temple, who said he had been asked to produce bank account records of Miss Crawford and her late husband, Ray Spivack. She protested that she was unable to appear and could present a physician's affidavit to that effect.

Outdoor Cookery School

James D. Pond, forester from Cornell University, assisted by Miss Marian Bellamy, assistant, will give a demonstration on how to cook an outdoor meal and like it. All 4-H club leaders are invited to come and join the fun. The meeting will be held Sunday, September 25, at 2 p. m. at Pratt Boice's Farm, Lake Katrine.

W. B. Tongue's Illness Fatal

Walter Baynard Tongue, Sr., 75, president of the Doty and Humphrey Drug Company, Inc., 394 Main street, Poughkeepsie, one of the oldest drug concerns in the city, died at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, from heart disease.

Residing at the home of his son, Walter, Jr., 11 Forbes street, since the death of his wife, the former Lucy Wade Thompson, January 11, 1934, Mr. Tongue was taken to Vassar Hospital a week ago. He had been in failing health for some time.

Born January 1, 1862 in Kingston, the son of James and Elizabeth Dykes Tongue, who were both natives of England, Mr. Tongue was the youngest of a family of nine children, two of whom are living.

After attending the district public school in the Poughkeepsie part of Kingston, Mr. Tongue entered the employ of the Washington Laycock pharmacy in lower Broadway, Kingston, in 1876 where he worked for four years.

He went to New York in the fall of 1880 and was employed by three drug concerns before taking a two-year course in the old New York College of Pharmacy, which was at 23rd street and Third avenue, New York. He obtained part of his education while at college by attending some day and some night classes.

After his graduation he set up in business at Lexington avenue and 92nd street and maintained the New York business for 20 years before moving back to Kingston, in the spring of 1907. He took things easy for six months at Kingston before making connections with the Doty and Humphrey Company in Poughkeepsie, which was originally at 265 Main street, the present site of the Billmore restaurant.

The business was moved to Canal and Main streets, present site of the Perlmutter Furniture Company in 1935, and was continued there until 1925, when it was transferred to its present location on Main street, near the corner of South Hamilton.

Shortly after making connections with the company, Mr. Tongue was elected vice president and secretary. Upon the death of Frederick T. Hiller he became treasurer. In 1920 A. S. Humphrey, the last surviving partner of the original partnership of Doty and Humphrey, died, and Mr. Tongue was elected president, which office he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Tongue had taken an active interest in the general purposes and affairs of his profession during his long career in the drug business. He was president of the New York State Pharmaceutical association in 1926, and for eight years previously was a member of the executive committee of the state organization.

He was a member of the board of trustees of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he was a member practically all of the time of his residence here. He was also affiliated with the Rotary club of Poughkeepsie and Truism Lodge, F. & A. M. Although not a charter member, he was one of the first to join the Rotary club.

In addition to Walter B., Jr., vice president and secretary of the drug concern, Mr. Tongue was survived by two other sons, Arthur C., of Kingston, and Donald G., of 56 South Randolph avenue, Poughkeepsie, treasurer of the company; two brothers, James, president of the Home Seekers Co-operative Savings and Loan association, of Kingston; and Frank, a retired locomotive engineer, of Schenectady; and several nieces and nephews.

Final rites will be conducted from Trinity M. E. Church in Poughkeepsie at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with the Rev. A. George Fears, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Hartsock, district superintendent of the M. E. conference, officiating.

Burial will be in Montrose cemetery, Kingston.

Weary Veterans Turn to Work

Legion apparently had faded. Legion officials indicated it was unlikely the organization would take partisan stand on any political issue.

It was expected, however, that the Legion would consider a resolution to clarify the status of veterans' industrial disabilities, particularly during the big steel strike, after objection to the role of veterans sworn in as strike deputies.

The five-man race for national commander apparently had narrowed to a hotly-contested battle between Daniel Doherty, Boston lawyer and Ray Kelly, corporation counsel of Detroit.

Other candidates were Lynn C. Gumbach of Fargo, N. D.; Milo Warner of Toledo, and Stephen Chodwick of Seattle.

Legion members still were bidding for the post of Legion chaplain. They were the Rev. John B. Messing, N. Y.; the Rev. Lawrence Jacksonville; the Rev. Frederick J. Hall, Jr., N. J.; and the Rev. John J. McDermott, Atlanta.

Convention will be held at the Madison Square Garden, New York, Sept. 22 (AP).—Tolerance towards new ideas was the keynote of the American Legion's annual convention, which opened here today. Gen. Frank T. Howland, administrator of veterans' affairs, and one of the principal speakers at the day's session of the 17th annual convention, said: "We must remain young in mind and spirit through the full exchange of ideas and opinions, but ever pointing with pride to the faith we have kept with the veterans of this, the greatest nation on earth," Gen. Hines said.

The 1,939 delegates to the convention were extremely diverse after their seventeenth annual convention, which opened here today. It was a full hour after the scheduled opening before the session got under way in the Metropolitan Opera House, to which the business meeting had been transferred from Madison Square Garden.

Colmery called the convention to order. National Chaplain, the Rev. Bryan H. Keathley, offered the invocation.

"You are the kind of citizens always needed to lead our people into proper channels and safeguard our democratic institutions from any disruptive force inimical to our ideals, and which today appear to present a growing threat to world peace," the general remarked in opening.

Employment of Veterans

He told the Legionnaires "many conditions signify that unemployment among veterans has been materially reduced during the past year" because of the "intelligent functioning of government agencies" and through the efforts of the Legion, as well.

And turning to the forthcoming census to determine the extent of unemployment in the country, the general said: "It is my intention to recommend to the committee in charge of this census that appropriate questions be inserted in the census schedules to ascertain whether the individuals covered are veterans, and of what wars. Here again your organization may be able to render a valuable service by encouraging unemployed veterans to make sure that they are covered in this census."

The general told the delegates of the progress in federal aid for veterans in the past fifteen years. "At the time of my appointment the Veterans Bureau was operating under the war risk insurance act, and little more than a year later the World War veterans act was passed," he said. "At that time some 193,000 veterans were in receipt of disability compensation, and 81 per cent of these were rated on a temporary basis."

"Today we have more than 355,000 veterans in receipt of disability compensation and 81 per cent of these are rated on a permanent basis rather than temporary."

WHAT NEW YORKERS SAW AS LEGION WENT ON PARADE

REMEMBER FLANDERS FIELDS

Gold Star Mothers Mrs. Sabina Burke, Walnut, Ia., unit chief, and Mrs. Mary Daniels, New York state president, watched the American Legion parade up Fifth avenue in New York, with mixed feelings. Their excitement over the spectacle was tempered by the remembrances of their boys who did not come back from "over there."

ANOTHER PLAN FOR SMALL TAXPAYERS

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP).—A withholding levy on taxable salaries up to $5,000 will be proposed to a house tax subcommittee by Chairman Vinson (D, Ky.) as a means of simplifying the revenue system.

The plan would eliminate the requirement that small taxpayers file income tax returns. Instead, their employers would hold back part of their earnings as income tax.

Employees would not have to state the number of their dependents and grounds for exemption so that deductions could be made.

Vinson said he had not worked out details of the proposal and had not taken it up formally with the treasury.

Backer Will Run

New York, Sept. 22 (AP).—George Barker, 35, son-in-law of the late Mortimer Schiff, Jewish financier, will run for Congress in the American Labor Party ticket in the "dark stocking" 17th Congressional district, Alex Rose, party executive secretary, announced today.

Red Hot Finishes

From First to Last

Backgrounding the stretch drive of the Giants and Cubs for the National League pennant stands a tight-packed division set-up which may provide a struggle for position as hard-fought as the flag fight before the curtain falls on the 1937 season October 3.

For the first time in many years of major baseball there's a chance for a 60-40 final standing, with all 8 National League teams bunched between the .500 and the .400 marks in the percentage table.

To find a closer finish—consider all eight positions—the clock must turn back 22 years to 1915, when the pennant-winning Phillies were only 21 games ahead of the last place Giants. It's possible, but hardly likely, that this year's race can even come close to equalling the 1915 degree of bunched, for John McGraw's team that year—the only year the Giants have finished in the cellar since 1902—won 69 games and its percentage was the highest ever recorded for a tailender, .454.

The Phillies that year won 90 games in winning the pennant, but the low-percentage pennant, of 1926, who won only 89 for a pennant percentage of .578, which, however, didn't prevent them from stepping right into the world series and beating the Yankees for the world championship.

A 400 tailender is very probable for the National League this year, attesting to the well-diversified strength of the eight teams in baseball's senior circuit. It also bespeaks September is the hottest month in the National League's 1937 pennant race, instead of being just a few weeks ahead of finishing out the regular schedule of games.

Those last-place contenders teams in the National League are the ones most to be feared by flag contenders, a fact as true nearly every year in the National League as the September Drive tradition. None of the cellar possibilities can hope to match the Giants' .454 percentage of 1915, but the 1927 tailender will probably beat .400.

A team winning 4 out of every 10 games over the season's play does not have to be ashamed of its season's record, even though the .400 percentage lands in no higher than 6th or 8th.

The Giants' 1915 percentage is a 20th century record for an 8th place club. If you back further than that, however, you find that the 8th place Reds of 1895 had a percentage of .508, and the 8th place Cubs of 1899 had .507.

Here's how that could happen. In the '90's the National League hit 12 clubs. A team could finish as low as 11th place without being a tailender.

Gold Pass Manager Bobby Wallace, who took over the managerial reins at Cincinnati upon the release of Charlie Dressen, is a distinguished member of baseball's Gold Pass gallery. There are only 19 men alive who possess Gold Lifetime Passes, presented to them by the National and American Leagues in recognition of 20 years active service in the major leagues. Wallace began his career with the Cleveland Spiders of the National League in 1918.

Swins A Mean Bat On the crest of a .450 batting average, achieved with an independent team at Dorment, Pa., the Phillies signed a new southpaw outfielder named Howard Paul Gorman, a swift-footed young man with a future. In his first professional venture, Gorman played first base for Washington, Pa., in the Pennsylvania State Association in 1935, batting .328.

Completion of Assessment Roll of the City of Kingston for the year 1937, has been finally completed and filed in the office of the City Clerk, at the City Hall, in the name of the City of Kingston, N. Y., where the same will remain open to inspection for FIFTEEN DAYS, until at Kingston, N. Y., September 21, 1937.

FAST PACKETS BID MISSISSIPPI ADIEU

Record of Robert E. Lee to Stand Forever.

New Orleans, La. — "Steamboat 'Bill, steam!' up the Mississippi, try to beat the record of the Robert E. Lee"—so goes an old ballad lamenting the tragic demise of a mythical river captain.

For three generations Steamboat Bills have churned the muddy Mississippi between New Orleans and St. Louis with throttles wide and safety valves tied down—yet the incredible record of 3 days and 18 hours for the 1,200-mile trip, set by the Robert E. Lee in its historic race with the Natchez in 1870, still stands. And it is likely to stand forever.

Three factors support the belief of old rivermen that the record of the Robert E. Lee will never be surpassed. One of these factors is that the fast packet boats of old no longer ply the Mississippi. Another is that the old spirit of competition and keen rivalry is lacking in the less colorful skippers of today. The third reason is that the United States Department of Commerce has clamped down on the highly dangerous tactics employed by the old captains to get more speed and power from their side-wheelers.

Valves Must Be Open.

The perilous but popular practice of tying or weighting down safety valve levers to increase steam pressure has been condemned. The steamboat inspection service of the Department of Commerce now seals the safety valves of all river craft after setting them to "pop" at a comparatively low stage of pressure.

In the famous old river ballad, the legendary Steamboat Bill—symbolic of the doughty generation of river skippers of the Mark Twain era—met his fanciful end when his side-wheeler blew up.

Nowadays river craft are constructed with an eye to economic operation and carrying capacity rather than speed.

Modern river traffic is the direct antithesis of rail, air and ocean traffic. While railroad lines, air lines and steamship companies are striving daily to outspeed and out-streamline each other, river craft are undergoing the opposite treatment.

The fast, semistreamlined packet boats are being replaced by square, blunt-nosed towboats, built only for tremendous power and durability.

Handled by Barges.

Even the largest packets were able to carry only 50 or 60 tons of freight in their holds, in addition to a deckful of passengers. The towboats, however, slug along behind as many as ten or eleven fully loaded steel barges, often pushing as much as 25,000 tons, or the equivalent of about seven average-sized freight trains.

The bulk of the freight traffic is handled by the Federal Barge line, government-owned fleet of 21 powerboats and 204 barges, operating under the direction of the Inland Waterways corporation. Its chief competitor is the Mississippi Valley Barge Line company, a private company operating five towboats and eighty barges. These unwieldy barge-pushers require at least six days and nights, including stops to load and discharge freight, to make the downriver trip from St. Louis to New Orleans. Sixteen days is the average time for the return trip.

Passenger service on the Mississippi no longer exists between St. Louis and New Orleans.

Skeletons Are Baffling

Paris Taxation Experts

Paris.—Taxation experts of the French republic are baffled by M. Jean Lavalette, who keeps a little shop in the Rue de L'Ecole de Medicine in Paris.

"Skeletons, half skeletons, skulls, all sections," reads the sign outside the shop. A real skull hanging outside makes it plainer.

Is M. Lavalette a producer? This is important, for on January 1 the turnover tax on retail sales was abolished and replaced by a 6 per cent tax on manufactured articles in the last stage of their production.

M. Lavalette mounts skeletons, building them up out of parts. Does that make him a producer?

One way out would be for the customs to collect the tax, as most of the skeletons come from abroad. But there is no fixed scale of charges for skeletons, so how much is 6 per cent?

M. Lavalette thinks that the tax collectors might as well give it up. His total earnings for last month were 15 francs—about 93 cents.

GETTING PARKING GROUND READY FOR THURSDAY

The Board of Public Works has been resurfacing the rear portion of the public parking ground on John street, placing it in good condition to accommodate the crowds that will be looking for parking space Thursday evening, when all roads will lead to Kingston and the big fall opening display and block party.
